MAKING THE PIECES

FIT

New Building

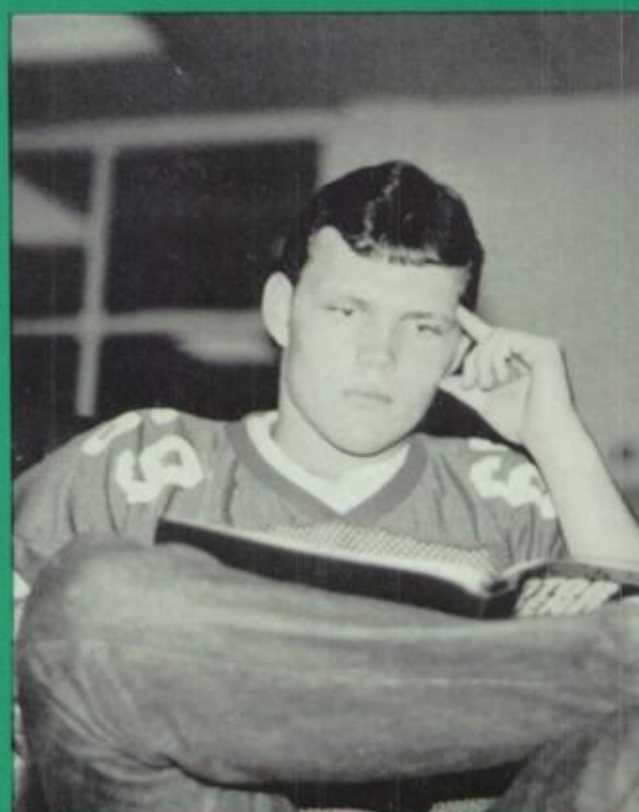

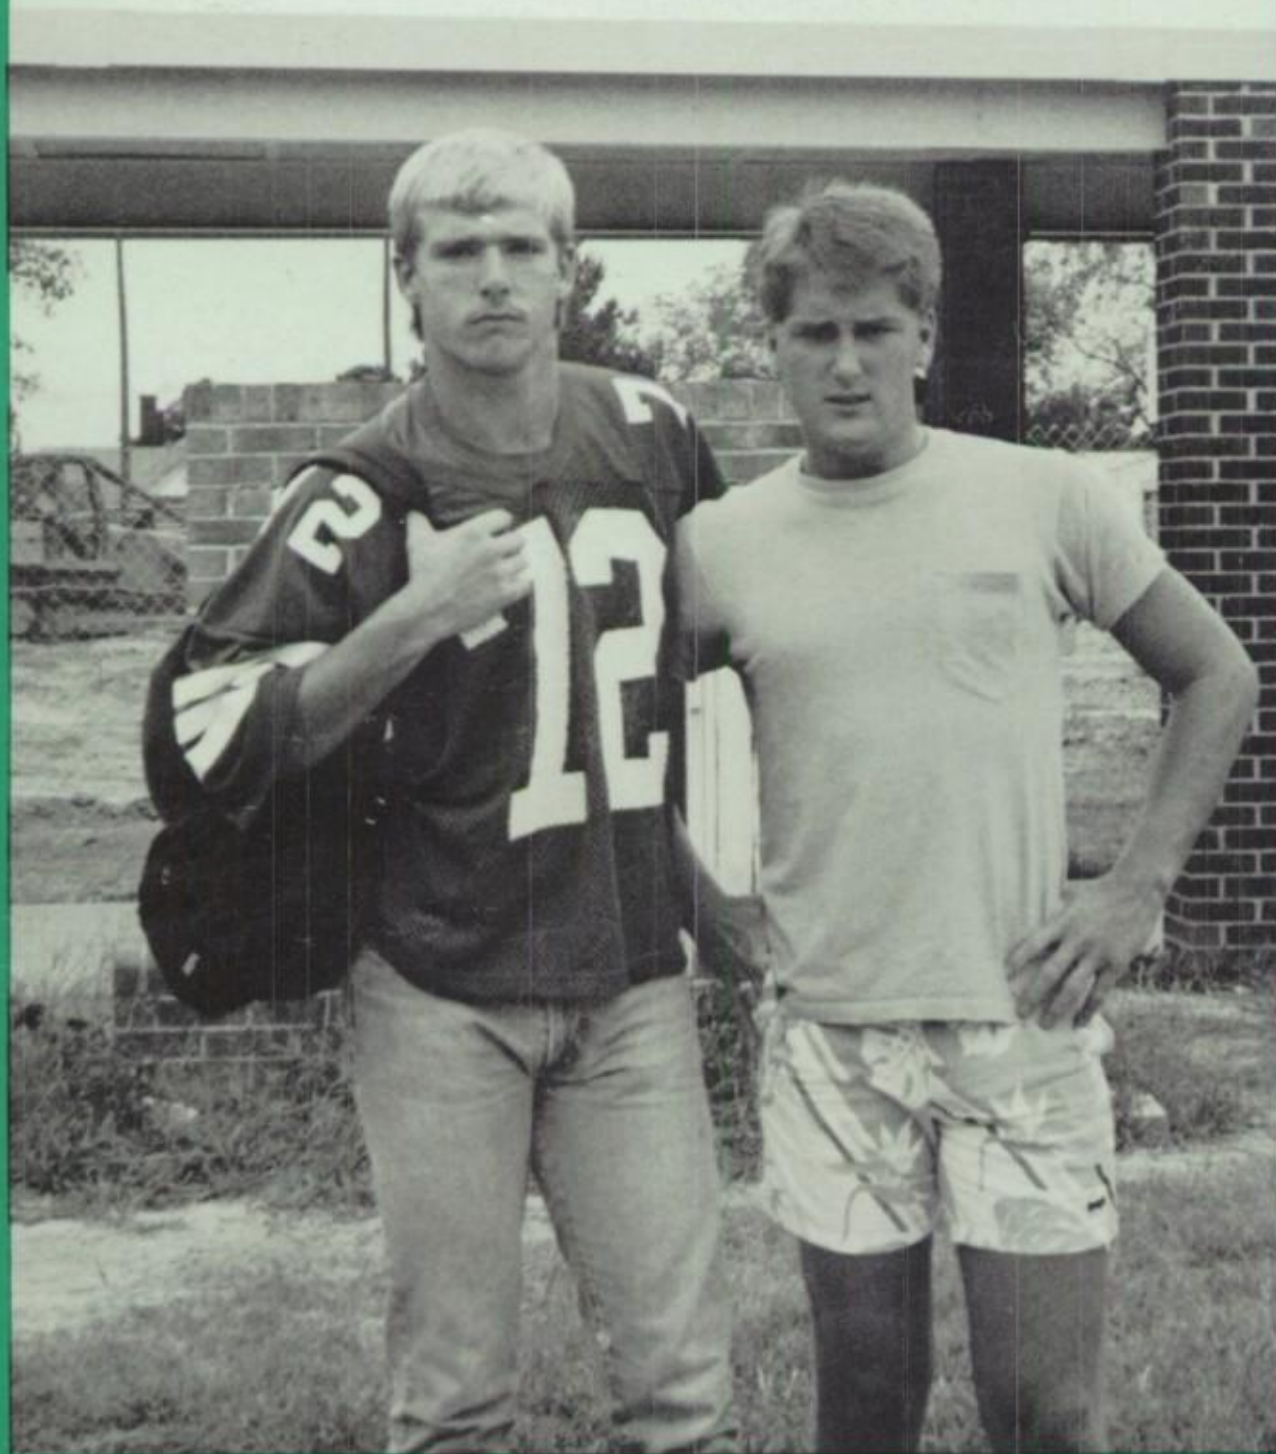

Each fall, construction begins, as it has for years past and will for years to come. In 1986 at North Lenoir, two structures have been started: one of brick and mortar, the other of mind and body.

North Lenoir is constructing a new building this year to update its facilities. Yet this building is not just one piece — one component — but a

Quam,

It gives me a pleasure to autograph your book. It has been nice knowing you all these years. I wish you the best of luck in the near future so may God Bless you and Heaven smile upon you.

Love Always Miss
Janet Smith

conglomerate of pieces. These pieces are not alike; they do not have the same jobs. Beams support the walls, the roof shelters the structure, the floor gives a firm foundation, mortar holds it all together, and paint covers the building, giving it refinement. These pieces do nothing alone; the building is created only when all the pieces come together.

Firm Foundations

Just as the building requires many parts, the student body is composed of many students who mesh together, creating a social structure that becomes a reflection of the very school. Each individual is a separate entity in himself. Just as it takes different parts to construct the school, so goes the construction of the student body. Different students become the girders of support and the walls of protection. Others are halls and pathways, the leaders and guiders. And still others become the windows and doors who offer insight to different views. The bonds of friendship become the mortar of the structure that is formed. Each student is an individual, but each is held by friendship, as they unite as the student body. The pieces have finally come together.

Each Individual

ANOTHER BRICK

How is a school built: brick by brick. How is a life built: moment by moment, day by day.

Students lives are being built like the school, every day a new brick is added, each giving a new support. Each student is building a wall inside himself. This wall must be sturdy so that the student may lean on it and find support in it for the future. His wall becomes diversified as he grows, each day adding new concepts and ideas. Every day he adds academic skills and social relationships, forming characteristics and personalities that make each student's wall unique.

NEW SUPPORT

The world is just a giant wall, composed of many individuals that make it whole. The students' lives are like that brick wall, continually growing with each brick added. Some bricks stand; some crumble. But through this we progress, we learn.

MANY INDIVIDUAL VALUES

Deedrah Respass, Kelley Hart,
Amy Hinson

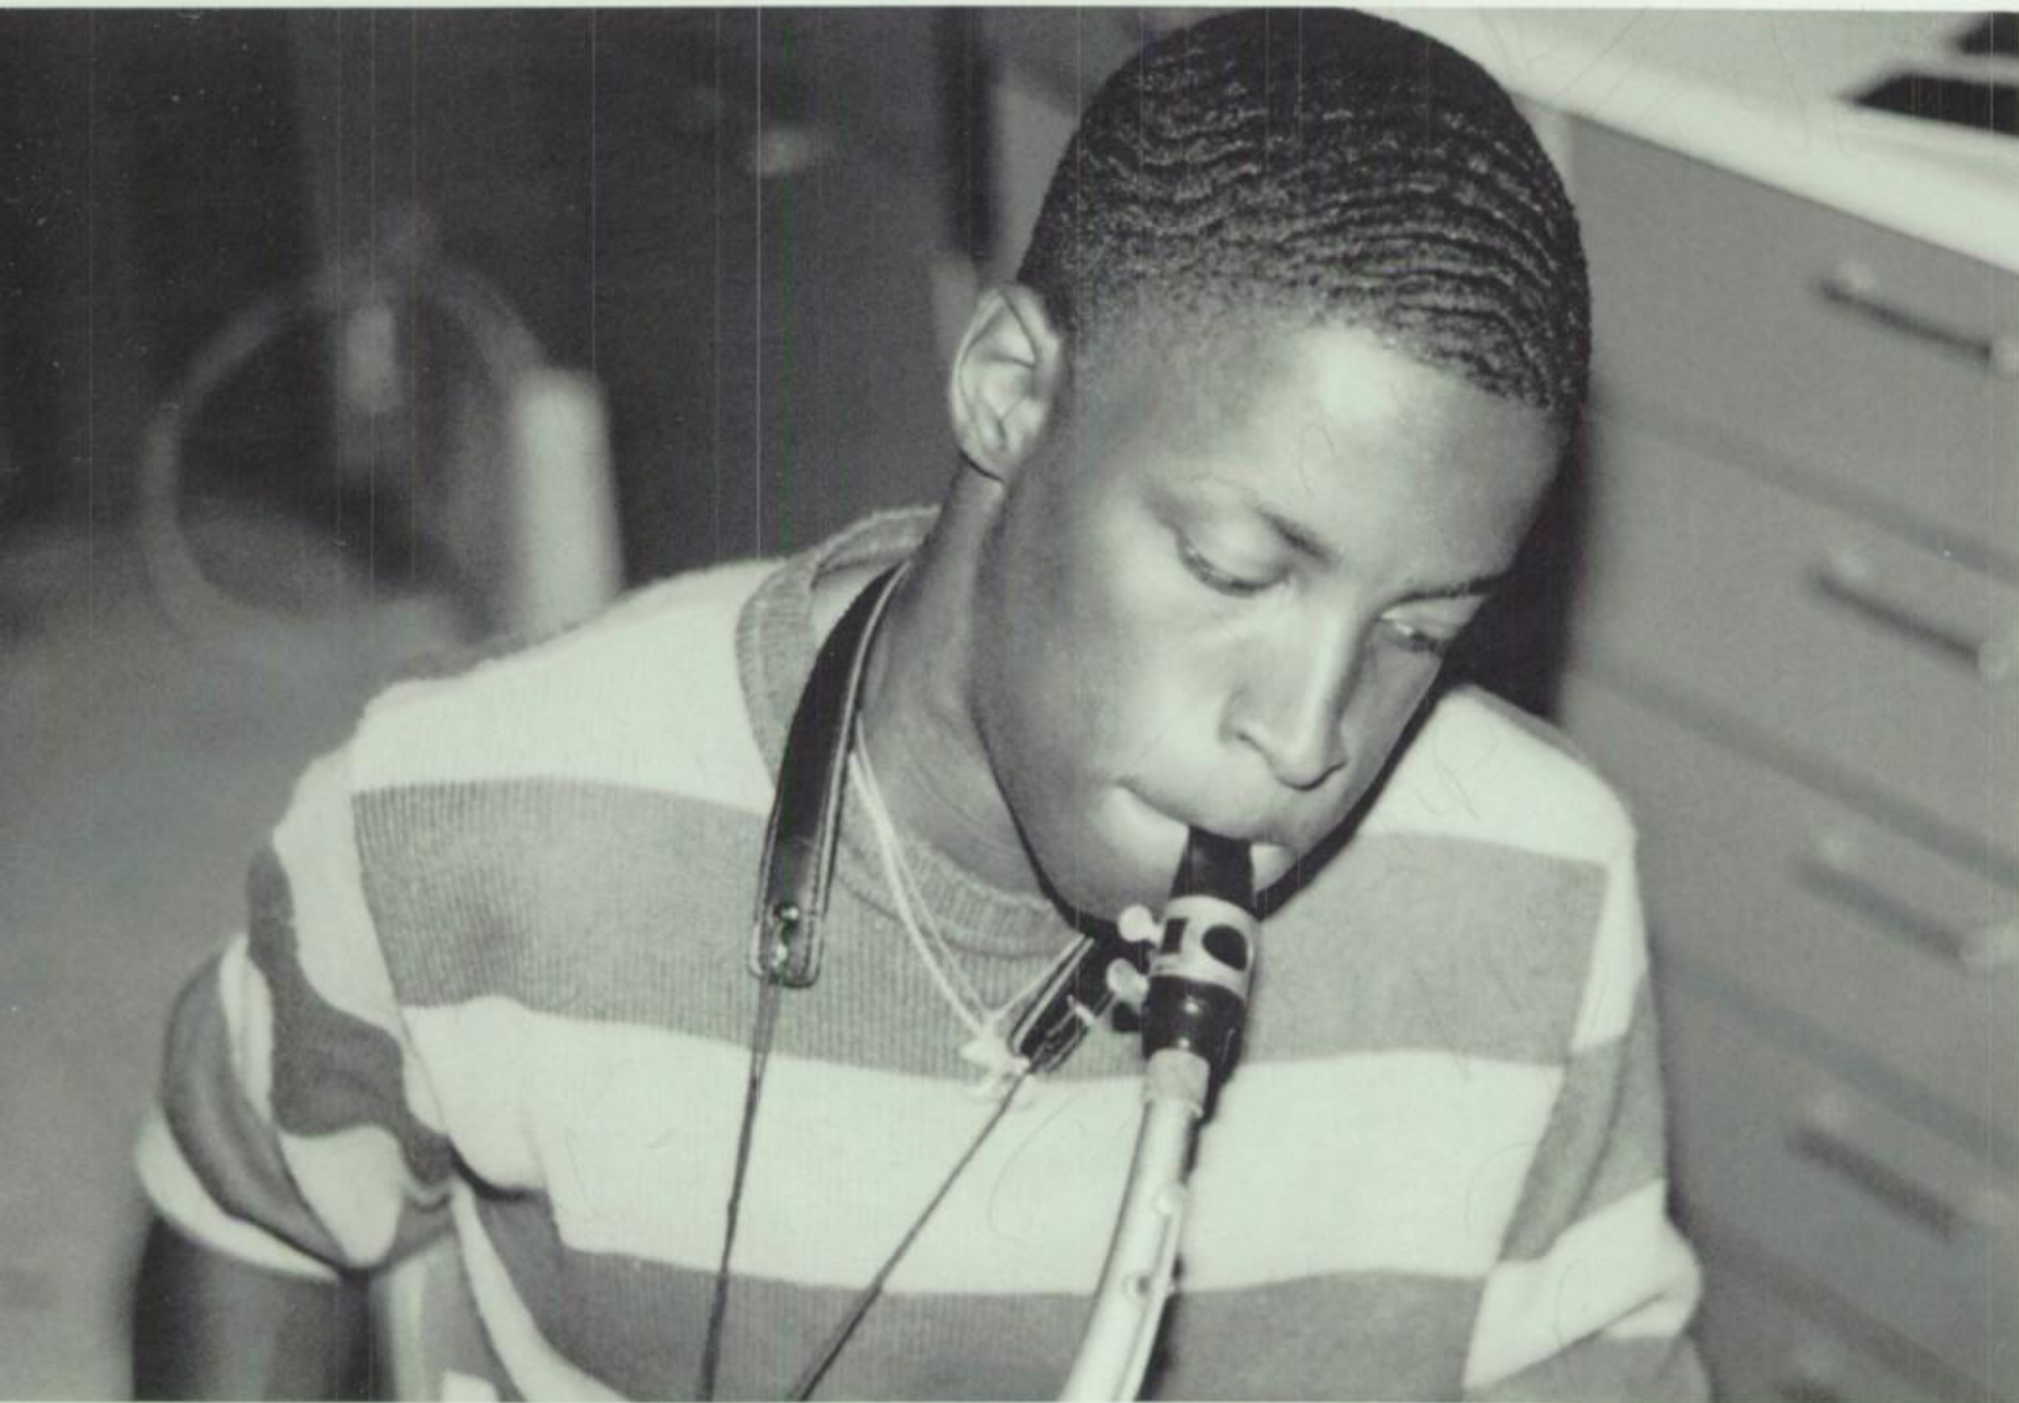

Another school year is passing, and for some of us, so are our high school experiences. Within the confines of these walls, we aspire to grow and mature into responsible adults. The fences at North Lenoir are not here to keep us in but rather to give us an obstacle to overcome. The view from within is sometimes quite scary because change is inevitable. As surely as North Lenoir is changing, however, so are we. Our view from within these fences continues as one of hope and challenge. The challenge is ours; we must prove to the rest of the world that coming from behind the fence is worthwhile, and we must realize that because we have been here, we will be able to accept what life will present.

PLUMB

NORTH LENOIR HIGH

Here at NLHS we are constructing the building which will be our future. In order to accurately and precisely align the walls of our building, we must use the plumb line of our values, dreams, and goals. We may be influenced to swing to the left or to the right, but we must always try to find the middle line; the perfect, straight path through life. Through the influence of liberal or radical groups, we could develop a paralysis of vision which could cause us to deviate from our perfect plumb line. We must, however, always guide our lives by the plumb line we have set for ourselves.

VALUES AND GOALS

PATH THROUGH LIFE

LET THE TORCH PASS

I first served Wheat Swamp School and grades 1-11 beginning in the 1930's. Then in 1964 I began serving North Lenoir School and grades 9-12. I have been here more than half a century. I have served many children. My job was always the same — to provide a shelter and an atmosphere for education.

I loved all children. There were the children who loved, laughed, and learned. Sometimes the little ones would be homesick at first and cry, but they grew, and grew, and grew. Oh, I know mamas and daddies hurt when their little ones were sent to me when they were so young. They were so glad when they returned in the afternoon. I know, too, that when the little ones were sick, the parents would worry and sometimes stay up all night watching over them. I know that many times money was scarce, and there was concern about lunch money, paper, pencils, and clothes. Sometimes in the 1930's Mama and Daddy would eat a little less so the children would have more. But we all made it through the hard times.

I have been asked, "What were some of the big things that happened with you over these many years?" That's easy. The 100's and 100's and 100's of children that passed through here — yes, they were the big things that happened. And I am so proud of every one of them. I have done my job, and I think I have done it well. I hope all of those many children who passed through here will remember me.

THROUGH HARD TIMES

Very shortly now, I must go, as all go, and be no more. Do not weep for me. I am quite proud of my life. Remember me fondly. Remember the good times. Be proud of this new building. Be fair and be helpful. This new building will serve the people well. The new generations will be sheltered, protected, and educated ... Let the torch pass ...

lasses

Excited freshmen, maturing sophomores, matured juniors, and wild seniors. Classes with class. Each of the students has worked hard to get where he or she is. Endless hours of tests, projects, and homework have accumulated on their shoulders, sometimes making school a little burdensome.

For the freshmen, it is the excitement of finally making it to high school. Most are willing to give their classes a little extra effort to prove to the upper classmen that they, too, can handle the work and do well in high school. Needless to say, this zealousness sometimes carries over to their efforts to get their food, and they tend to RUN TO LUNCH.

The sophomores are the returning freshmen. They still have some of the excitement that they had the year before, but now they begin to discover school is something beyond academics and athletics. Many join clubs. Others find that their interests lie in competitions such as science fairs or spelling bees.

Juniors have the experience and confidence to find their new status exciting. They have class rings to look forward to and the opportunity to raise funds and attend, for the first time, the prom.

But the senior class members are the most excited. Just being a senior is exciting. Everything that is school-related is being done for the last time. The students are gearing up for that final, great day of graduation.

Yet, all in all, despite the diversity of these classes, they have one thing in common: they make up what we all call North Lenoir High School.

SENIORS CONSTRUCT THEIR LAST YEAR

WE'RE ON OUR WAY

Seniors make important decisions about college. Representatives from various colleges come to North Lenoir to give seniors applications and share much valuable information about the colleges the students are interested in attending.

WE'RE SENIORS. WE'RE GOOD. WE KNOW IT.

— Charles Herring

Seniority, we've got it,
The Class of '87.
We love it, respect it;
it's kind of like heaven.
Ever since we started
here at North Lenoir,
This Seniority is what we've been looking for.
And now, our destiny
has finally been found;
We are seniors and leaders
on this high school ground.
But classmates, beware,
for June is coming fast.
We must succeed this year;
this chance is our last.
We must show we have the power
in our hearts and minds,
To leave at North Lenoir
many memories behind.
Therefore, my friends,
whom I cherish very much,
We must prove to the world
we have Seniority in our touch.

— Allen Gerald Jackson

In the Beginning

In the Beginning
We came to North Lenoir —
A shy class of freshmen —
To add to this school a lot more.
Our sophomore year
We seemed stuck in the middle;
But just wait a second,
And let me finish this riddle.
Our junior class
Had a mad desire;
We knew we were the best!

We set this school on fire!
Now we've waited in line
Far too long,
And everyone has learned
The Class of '87 will always be strong.

— Billy Carr

Time escapes
through circling sands,
Keeping silent vigil
over a learner's fate.
Winding down like a clock
with no hands,
The hour glass empties
at an alarming rate.
Remembered is the
laughter
together we shared.
As accomplishment yields
to a new-found fear.
We've flown higher than
we had ever dared
To make '87
a magical year.

— Stephen Lassiter

Satisfaction Guaranteed
of all the futures
And all the pasts,
We are the class
That's bound to last.
Of all the changes
We've been through,
We've shown them all
What we can do.
Math, English, Art,
And Typing, too —
We've been together
And stuck like glue.
We've raised Hades,
We're the wrath
of Green Heaven,
We've Number One,
We're the Class of '87.

Being a Senior involves many activities. The first of these is taking senior pictures before school opens in the fall. This is a large undertaking for both the students and the photographers, requiring a full day during the summer. Eight different poses mean that decisions have to be made about what to wear and that changes of clothing have to be brought. A good two hours can be spent changing clothes, making sure hair is in place, waiting in line, and flashing a smile on command from the photographer. This activity sets us on the path to all the others so familiar to earlier seniors, of which learning class ranks, preparing college applications, and passing tough senior courses are only a few. This year truly is a decisive one in determining our future.

As I leave North Lenoir, I...

Al Hughes, leave my brother Jake a ride to school; may he be there thirty minutes early.

Allen Jackson, being of sound mind and body, leave Kristie Register all the love and care that she deserves.

Amanda Morgante, leave my love to Kenny Moore and my grades to whoever wants them.

Amy Hinson, leave two lucky people the hope that they may find someone at N.L. and have as good a relationship as I have had.

Amy Odom, leave all of my love, admiration, and appreciation to "Daddy" Doug Hill, "Stepmother" Barrow, "Aunt" Jones, "Uncle" Suggs, "Cousin" Carraway, and the rest of the illustrious faculty members who can't wait to get rid of me.

Annette Dunn, leave Angie Cole all my SAB MEGA excuses, and I leave Tina Hemby two tickets to see "Weird Science."

Anthony King, bequeath to anyone the courage and the ability to finish high school and be successful in life.

Ameta Allen, leave all my memories of Anthony Darnell Jones.

Ashley Smith, leave all the underclassmen, Herb.

Barbara Worthington, leave all my love for now and always to Keith Lund.

Becky Hines, leave all my friends lots of love, and I hope to see them in the future.

Benita Grant, leave Ann Duvall all of my love, friendship, artistic talent, and common sense.

Amy Hill, Angela Britt, Ben Wiggins, Billy Burns, Cindy Alphin, C.J. Rouse, Dave Pratt, Daryl Jones, Deborah Lambert, Edward Sutton, Eric Cotton, Gretchen Clemmons, Jennifer Isler, Jenny Wiggins, James Whitfield, Kim Chapman, Lori Johnson, Lyn Ewell, Maria Boone, Melissa Potter, Melvin Kelly, Michelle Hemby, Michelle Houston, Mickey Whaley, Myra Enzor, Nicole Sutton, Opal Rouse, Paula Gurley, Ray Battle, Scott Thrower, Sherry Sells, Steve Hamm, Susan Langston, Tammy Harrison, Teena Parris, Teresa Wade, Tim Dali, Tonya Mills, Tracy Hardy, William Hill, and Wright Barbour leave our great times at N.L. to our friends and loved ones.

Becky Lenhart, David Grant, Jeff Sutton, Jennifer Sutton, and Renee Thomas leave our partying times to our friends.

Beth Batts, Beth Sharber, being of sound minds and bodies, leave Jennifer some yellow jacket repellent.

Bill Thomas, Corona Dunn, Danny Franks, Janet Smith, Melissa Harris, Mike Fields, Scott Radford, Tony Hughes, Tonya Russell, William Sutton, and William Williams, leave our books to all of our friends.

Brad Carter, Bridget Cobb, Chris Maxwell, Dwayne Smith, Deborah Williams, Jamie Taylor, Jeff Barnes, Joseph Graham, Juan Skinner, and Tony Hughes leave this place as fast as possible.

Denise Smith, Katherine Washington, Kneika Tyson, Necole Washington, and Tina Dortch leave all our craziness, and, if any, seriousness to all the rising seniors.

Delores Kinsey, Kacia Kittrell, and Nichelle Staten leave our bus seats to the freshmen.

Donald Mitchell and Guy Streeter leave our love to the young ladies of North Lenoir.

Dondra Price, Jody Mercer, Kim Howell, Ronald May, Tammy Gower, and Wayne Britt leave our great times of skip-ping school to our friends.

Ellisha Hill leaves N.L. with dignity, pride, love, and friendship, which I will treasure forever.

Glen Stalnaker and Lisa Meryady leave to the underclassmen the ability to pass without studying.

Jackie Garder, Jerrilyn Harris, Kimberly Jones, and Valerie Bell leave our respect to all the underclassmen who can stand this place.

James Best, James Parker, Lindsay Williams, Terry Avery, and Todd Koehler leave our coolness and charm to the underclassmen who need it.

Keith Lund and Lewis Gray leave our buses to new drivers in hopes that our passengers will be safe.

Kelley Milfore, Michelle Hoover, and Missy West leave our memories of S.O. to all the underclassmen.

Patricia Mozingo and Tawana Shepherd leave our bad luck to all the underclassmen.

Benjamin Harris, leave my self control and sense of humor to all of the underclassmen.

Bill Stallings, being of sound mind, want my path burned so no one will follow in my footsteps.

Billy Carr, leave my artistic ability on the walls of N.L.; I also leave my driving abilities to Rickie K.

Billy Small, being of unsound mind and overweight body, leave my empty notebooks to Bobbi C. and the rest of the crew. Party hard!!

Brett Hardy, leave my old, beat-up pickup for my sister Karen to drive.

Bryan Thompson, with some mind, leave all of my good and bad memories to Dawn Scott.

Carla Bellamy, leave all the good luck to my sister and friends.

Cassandra Cogdell, leave all my determination and drive to the rising seniors and my manner to the young freshmen.

Charles Herring, leave my wild hair and zits to any rising senior who loves to party.

Charlette Patrick, leave all my long hours studying to those who wish to be successful.

Chris Tripp, leave my love to Melissa Howard and all my wild times to Tony, Chris, and the fellows.

Christian Crute, leave my oratorical prowess to Bzzz-Bzz, Bzzz, and Bzzz-B-Bzzzz.

Christie Killeffe, leave my study abilities to Paige and all my good times to Joseph Kinsey.

Chuck Hall, leave all my English notes in Ms. Moore's room to the freshmen, if I had any notes.

Clint Stovall, leave all the underclassmen my sympathy.

Crandall Anderson, being of absent mind, leave Mark Wilson and Devin Westbrook all my Calculus and Physics materials. Have fun, fellas.

Curtis Brooks, leave all my musical composition to the N.L. chorus.

Cynthia King, leave my ability to type to my sister Fannie.

Dan Sharp, leave the dead and join the living.

Darryl Chapman, leave my smile and love to Kristi Grady. Best wishes.

Daryl McNeal, leave a challenge to Mr. Jerry Walton: find a better basketball player than me!

Dean Tyler, leave my irresistible charm to the underclassmen so they can remember how great our Senior Class was.

Debbie Kinsey, take three-fourths of everything I have with me; the rest I leave to the Delta Force.

Deborah Temple, leave all my work to Sandy Temple.

Deedrah Respass, leave Bo Spitzer and Rob Malone my jeep keys in hopes that they may look as good in it as me and Paula.

Dereck Haskins, do hereby leave all the long nights of single-minded studying to William Haskins and Dana Cousins.

Diane Wooten, leave my bright mind to Tina K. and my sports ability to my brother Tony.

Donna Howard, leave the crew of N.L. my ability to stay out of trouble. Good Luck!

Donna Kittrell, leave my memories and the ability to strive for achievement to my brother, Willie.

Eddie Floyd, leave Heath Akins my great athletic ability and my love to Lesley, Stephanie, and April.

Ella Wooten, leave my ability to stay out of trouble to my sisters and brother.

Eric Johnson, leave my ability to make friends to my cousins.

Eric Rouse, leave my love and knowledge to Nicole G., Travella D., Portia B., and Shari W.

Eulissie Simmons, leave all my front row seats in my classes to my sister.

Fabienne Kittrell, leave an important message to my sisters, brother, and cousins: Hey! Stop, and use your head!

Faye Wooten, leave all my fighting days to my enemies who always wanted me.

Fayette Dixon, leave my good luck, happiness, patience, and pleasant grades to my brother Ricky.

Felicia Ashford, leave my beauty to Tina McClain and my love to Leon Morgan.

Gene Peacock, leave Robin Stroud all of the troubles I had at N.L. and the gas money I owe him.

Glenn Hardee, leave nothing because the rising seniors have a new school.

Gretchen Kneib, leave Jennifer Trivette my charm, looks, and my great personality. Make the most of them.

Henry Chapman, leave my thoughts of this school to myself.

Herbert Pittman, leave my class ring to Juwanne C. and my drum to Carl Holland.

Iris Ham, leave my junky locker and good looks to Sheronika J. and my bad times to Tonya H.

Jeff Kennedy, being of sound body and confused mind, leave all my journals and homework habits to any underclassmen who happens to want them.

Jeff Smith, leave all my party favors to my cousin Edward Reece.

Jodi West, leave my cousin Marty the wild times, and to all the cheerleaders I wish the best in everything.

John Stroud, leave N.L. always being young, dumb, and full of fun.

Judy Moore, leave this message: when I go I don't know what I'm hoping to find; when I leave I don't know what I'm leaving behind.

Kelley Hart, leave Ann Frances anything she wants, if she can figure out how to get it.

Ken Thigpen, leave school the same way I came — DUMBFOUNDED!!

Kenneth Gray, leave my world class football shoes to anyone they will fit.

Kenny Wiggins, leave my wild women to my little brother Kurtis and my grades to my sister Donna.

Kent Alford, leave my ability to persevere through hard times and my desire to succeed.

Kimberly Johnson, leave my abilities and respect to all my cousins.

Kris Barrow, leave? I'll take it all with me. I need all the help I can get.

LeSheryl Wooten, leave all the underclassmen and teachers the Lord Jesus Christ.

Lisa Foyles, leave my best four years of school to my cousin Cathy.

Michele Mayo, dedicate my black Ciao! shoes to Mrs. K. Hunt.

Orlando Mason, leave my good looks and fine body to David Smith.

Pam Tyndall, leave all my laughs and giggles to Jeanie Stallings.

Paul Parker, leave part of my heart and soul at N.L.

Paula Spitzer, leave all the underclassmen, especially Bo, the ability to get Mrs. Daly off the subject for a whole period.

Pebbles Blanchard, leave everything I never had to Tonto.

Rachel Cruz, leave the deep thoughts and college essays to all the upcoming Adv. Comp. students.

Ray Fisher, leave my bricklaying ability to Kenzo Chapman and my unused book to my cousin James.

Reginald Parks, leave everything of great importance to Ernest, Leon, and Torrance.

Rick Sutton, leave my thanks and appreciation to all the '86-'87 FFA members and my advisors.

Robbie Honeycutt, leave all my secrets to Mrs. Caroline Smith.

Robby Overman, being of sound mind and near-perfect body, leave my bus to anyone who wants it.

Rosa Mumford, leave to Melissa all my headaches.

Sara Newbern, leave my will to Curtis.

Sarah Beth Turner, leave my expert secretarial ability in Mrs. Ippock's room to anyone who loves her as much as I did and my intelligence to my brother Brad.

Shannon Howard, leave to Dawn P. and Laura M. my extraordinary ability to spend Friday nights in the trees.

Sonji Moore, leave all underclassmen my nagging teachers and lousy excuses.

Stephanie Hardy, leave all my love, hopes, and dreams to my brother David.

Stephanie Pope, leave my condolences to the Class of '88, as they will never be as great as the Class of '87.

Stephen Lassiter, leave N.L.H.S. with the best friends a guy could ever have.

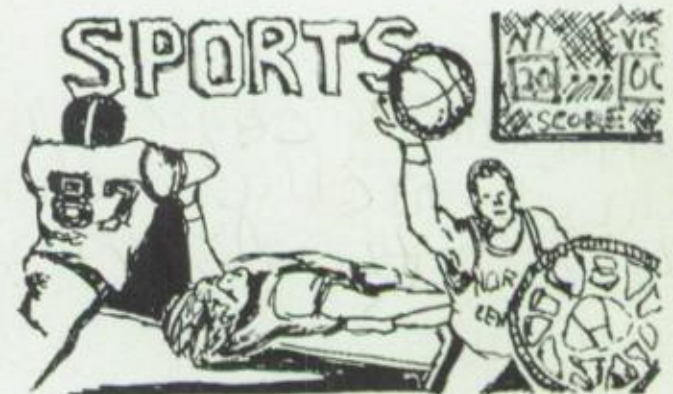

Suzanne Mason, leave the best friends in the world, Lesley, Stephanie, Kim, April, and Wendi, all the love in the world.

Tammy Coombs, leave my carpool to anyone who can and will take it.

Terrell Worthem, leave my love and determination to succeed to Rondell and the Class of '88.

Terri Coombs, leave all my love, happiness, and the best of luck to my brother Chris and my cousin Cathy.

Thomas Sutton, leave all my love to Cynthia Atkins.

Timmy Harris, leave all my neatness and responsibility to Chris Roddy.

Tina Gray, leave my brain to my brother.

Todd Edwards, being of very unsound mind, leave everything to the Juniors.

Todd Vojta, leave my brother Scott in the 11th grade.

Tony Cotton, leave my expertise and cunning ability to do well in areas that are to be controlled.

Tonya Register, leave all my love and friendship to Angie Cole and Stephanie Warlick.

Tracey Sutton, leave N.L. and all of its memories to Lori Everett.

Valarie Trent, leave my exuberant nature to all the people that make high school such a drag and lots of love to Roslyn Williams.

Veronica Joyner, leave to Mrs. Barbara Brown and Monique Joyner all my love.

Vonda Best, being of sound mind and body, leave nothing but thanks for all the love, support, and friendships here at N.L.

Willie Anne Stallings, leave the varsity squad a chance against Kinston's five-year-old routine at the fair.

William Hardison, leave all my memories of school and my love to Michelle Allen.

William Mumford, leave my superior knowledge to the freshmen who will need it.

Ada Lewis, Berkley Graham, Chandra Sutton, Clayton Hill, La Juan Holmes, Michelle Boyette, Michelle Taylor, Nicole Hargitt, Patricia Sykes, Tami Teachey, and Trina Herring, leave all of our good grades to the underclassmen.

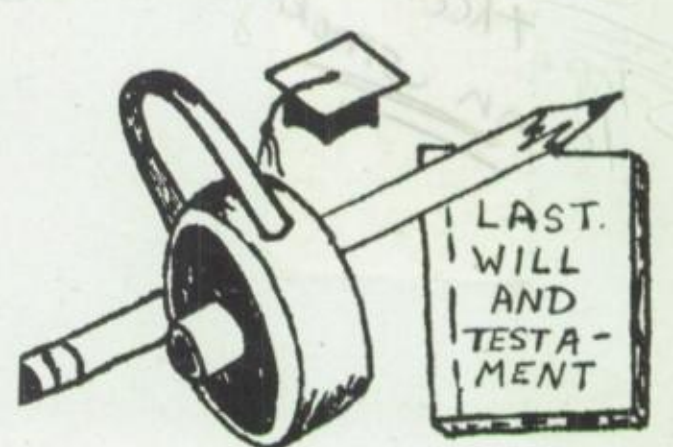

Loftin Herring, leave everyone with memories of me. How lucky can you get?

Mark Smith, leave all my tardies and pink slips to the fellows and my good times to Carol S.

Michelle Carter, leave my enthusiasm and courage to Shanta W. and Ginger E.

Mike Baysden, leave all my surfing abilities to my cousin Ken and my grades to my girlfriend Gina — she needs them.

JUNIORS

While junior class magazine sales this year weren't as successful as class members would have liked them to be, the class did sell $7,700 worth of magazines. Mrs. Phyllis Creech's homeroom had the best sales record, and Mrs. Priscilla Hensley's homeroom came in second. The top salesperson was Marsha Manning, and the second place salesperson was James Sutton.

aculty and

What would North Lenoir High School be without its faculty and staff members? How does North Lenoir Recreation Center sound? Of course, our school IS lots of fun ... fun for the teachers, that is. Many students don't realize that the teachers have weekly contests among themselves to see who can torture students the most. At the faculty meetings they all gather together and compare torture stories. Each week a winner is selected and prizes, such as chalkboard cleaner, staples, and other items that only a teacher could appreciate, are awarded.

Some of the teachers decide to join forces and become allies with other teachers so that they can inflict even more torment on innocent students. These teachers all meet in the lounge during their planning periods to think of new, inventive ways to intimidate their pupils. The allied teachers are fairly easy to spot. Just look for the teachers who all give MAJOR tests on the same day. The poor students who are unfortunate enough to have the allies always end up with five or six tests in one day. How cruel!

Staff

Then there are those teachers who only occasionally enter the contests. The teachers who decide to give tests on the day before Christmas holidays or the ones that cover a month's worth of work during the week of the junior-senior prom fall into this category.

Of course, teachers aren't the only ones who are eligible to enter the contests; the principals get in on the fun, too. That's why the people who get called to Mr. Carraway's or Mr. Hill's office sometimes have to wait awhile before they get to talk to them. This causes the students to sit nervously in the waiting room wondering what they got caught doing wrong. Is that sheer terror or what?

Let's not forget about Mr. Suggs' role in these contests, though. He limits his cruel actions to only those that affect the North Lenoir bus drivers. He often tends to pick on some drivers more than others. One of his favorite tricks is to accuse certain drivers of arriving on campus at 8:09 a.m. when, in reality, they arrive at 8:10. Then he circles the numbers of the "early" buses in bright red ink on the sign-in sheet so the drivers will feel embarrassed and humiliated. He's such a nice man!!!

So, fellow students, if you ever notice that any of your teachers are acting especially hateful, it is because they are after the weekly prize. Whenever they do something to try to terrorize you, just grin and bear it; they hate having their plans fail. Good luck, and let's hope they all get worms in their apples.

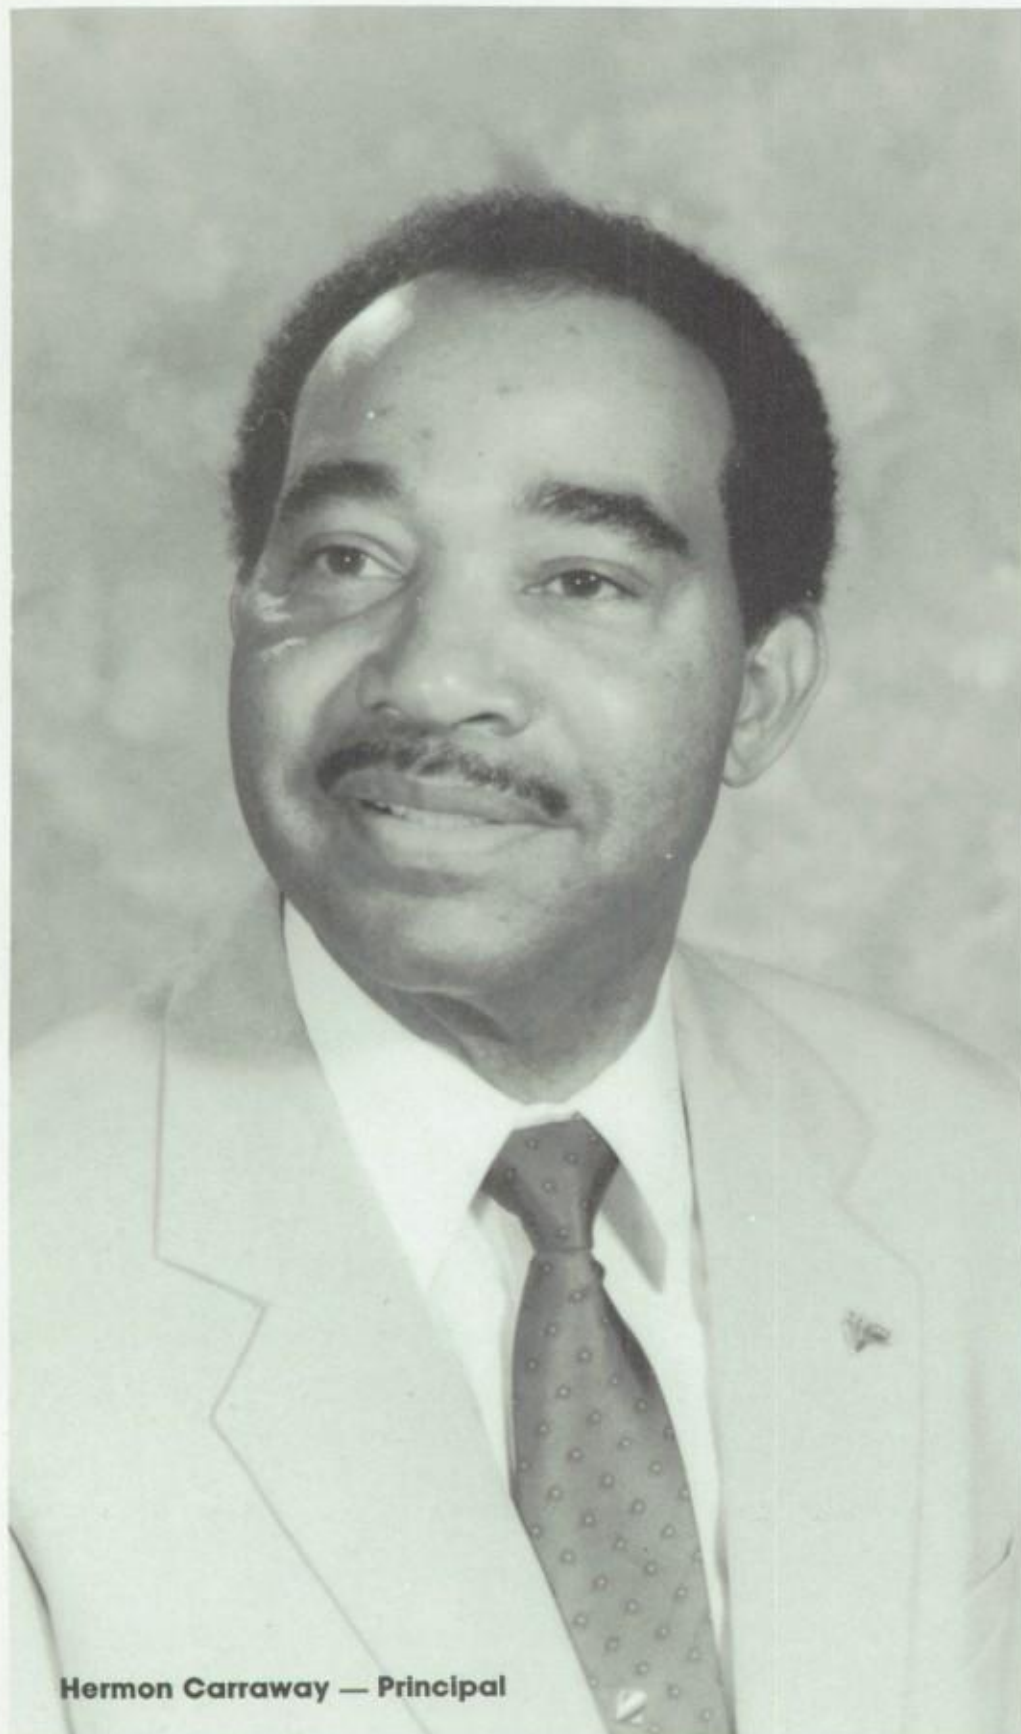

(Due to the fact that the writer of this classified information is currently a senior who wishes to graduate, her name cannot be released.)

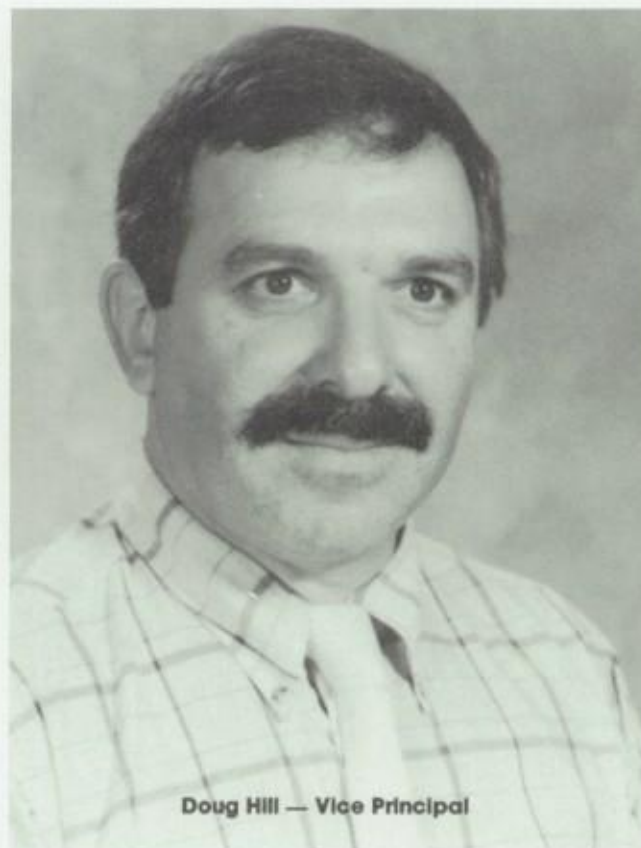

Education is the process by which people acquire knowledge, skills, virtues, habits, and values. It plays a very important role in the life of mankind and is humanity's chief means of progress. Education helps new generations understand the advances of their ancestors and build on those ideas for a better tomorrow.

This challenge for the future rests with our most valuable resources, the children. They must be instilled with the knowledge, the desire to achieve, and the right values if we, as a society, are to achieve.

Children are most impressionable in the school age years, and teachers play an important role in their development towards becoming productive members of society. Teachers mold and influence students' minds from the day the children enter kindergarten until the day they graduate from high school. A pebble that is dropped into a pool of water will make ripples that somewhere down the road will affect how that pool of water is shaped, and so it is with teaching. One word, action, or incident between students and their teachers will affect how those students think and react years down the road. That is the reason why good teachers are so important in today's schools.

Teachers who strive to make their students successful will push them to excel and to put forth the effort to become the best they can be. They stimulate the students' minds with challenging questions and force those students to think. Good teachers can be the kindling that sparks the ingenuity and the creativity in the otherwise apathetic students. Good teachers will help those sparks grow in intensity until the students are achieving things they never dreamed were possible. Students' lives are changed with their new found confidence and sense of importance that teachers had the time and patience to bring out through recognition and encouragement for the students' work or special talents. The otherwise shy, reserved students will become a bit more daring if the right teachers are present to encourage them.

It is not unusual to find teachers, who care about students, volunteering their time for after school activities, like chaperoning a school trip or undertaking a big project such as the school annual, the school newspaper, or the coaching of a school team. They are active in starting and managing clubs that will further students' personal development. Time and effort are spent sending off student work to newspapers and contests so that the students are rewarded for trying to do their best. At the same time a good image for the school is maintained. Many teachers spend their own money to buy materials that will be of use to them in the challenge of helping students to learn and progress.

Good teachers are important for our future, for if the children are not taught the knowledge, habits, and virtues that they are going to need in life and if they are not instilled with the desire to achieve their best, our outlook for the future becomes dismal. Teachers help shape our future the way a potter shapes a piece of clay: both are enthusiastic about their jobs, both mold and shape their subjects until they become the best they can be. Children need education so that they will become a productive part of society. Education is a powerful tool that insures a better tomorrow for the children of

First, it's the friends, classes, and books. We return to school and start the grind of the new school year. There are tests to study for, papers to write, books to read, sections to comprehend, and homework to do at the last second. Then, Friday night comes and football season is in full swing! (As if it hasn't been for a month.)

The sounds of hitting bodies, the roaring crowd, and the announcer fill the autumn night. The game is underway, and we are immediately captivated. The looks in the players' eyes show the mental aspect of the game that is not experienced without being on the field. The excitement is worth all of the hard work, sore muscles, minor injuries, and a month of practice before school starts. The crowd loves the action, and we make it to the first playoff spot in the school's history. Although we get knocked out in the first round by Tarboro, it is a start. Besides, we've never seen Coach Hill without his mustache before he keeps his promise to the team and shaves it off after we make the playoffs.

Although sometimes considered secondary, volleyball plays an important part in Hawk pride. Of course, the Lady Hawks always make us proud. They work very hard at both practice and play. With enough practice, experience, and guidance from Miss Wood, North Lenoir's volleyball players show the entire school and their opponents how to play the game.

And who is that on the sidelines? It's the cheerleaders, of course. You know, the ones who constantly rally behind our teams. Some of the Varsity members have been North Lenoir cheerleaders for four years now. Their tenure is almost over, but we understand that there are some good ones in the middle school ready to replace them. Although we hear they are good, surely they can never be as good as the girls who presently cheer for the Hawks.

With the pending Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, a fresh sight dominates the scoreboard. It is the sight of a round, orange ball flying on both sides of our gymnasium. Basketball season is here. Whoops! Now who were you referring to, Mr. Floyd? Shame, shame! The girls are doing just fine. Ah! Come on, ref, that wasn't a foul. You know OUR Varsity boys wouldn't do that.

Well, the winter months were tough, but now spring is in the air. BANG!!! Track is here. Good gracious, look at that boy run! First place. He had that race won from the shot of the gun. This is a tough meet, though. It's going to take our best effort to win. Oh! They're leaving the starting gates and now going into . . .

Come on, Ben, try to hit one a little higher. I mean, their home runs are too much. I know that you're a senior and this is your season, but . . . Oh yea! It's baseball and softball. The cool spring days are electrified by the beat from booming bats and frying gloves.

All of these sports help to build character: the character of the school as well as that of the individuals. These sports give much more to everyone than what the participants could possibly get in return. This character, which increases year after year, is a stepping-stone towards clean fun, good sportsmanship, and fair, honest play in future life for both the athletes and the rest of the student body.

J.V. HAWKS BUILD A TRADITION

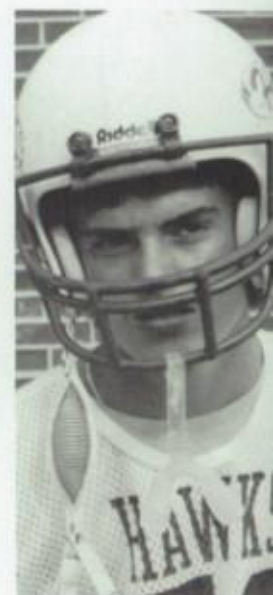

3:10 P.M. School's out! Thank goodness! Time to go home, and sleep, and eat, and ... What? It's Monday! Cheerleading practice? Are you sure you're not mistaken? The student center fills with sounds of laughing, joking, and talk about this past weekend's parties. But all too soon it's over. Real practice begins. Reviewing for cheers, chants, dances, and what? Another competition? No problem! Next week? Major problems!

Practice, practice, and more practice; the sweat of hard work; sometimes disagreements; hectic hours! But afterwards the outcome is always good. There's the excitement of the competitions and games, the new friends made, and the thrill of achievement and recognition. Knowing that you made the squad in competition with many others lifts your spirits. You are a member of a winning team; you are a North Lenoir Cheerleader. Angela Markle, Tina Hemby, Wendi Stainback

It all began in August two or three weeks before school started. Practice lasted about two hours each afternoon. At first it was long and strenuous activity, but after a while we even got used to the calisthenics. We then sharpened our offensive skills. We practiced until we wondered if we could ever run another play; we wondered if we could even make it off the field! Could anything be worth all of this? We decided that it could. We began our quest for victory by working, learning and playing as a team. With each game, our goal became tougher to reach. We felt excited and nervous before every game, and whether we won or lost, we still felt like a team. When we did lose, we were disappointed, but we practiced more and tried harder.

Being members of the J.V. Football Team is a special honor because it gives us the opportunity to represent North Lenoir High School.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

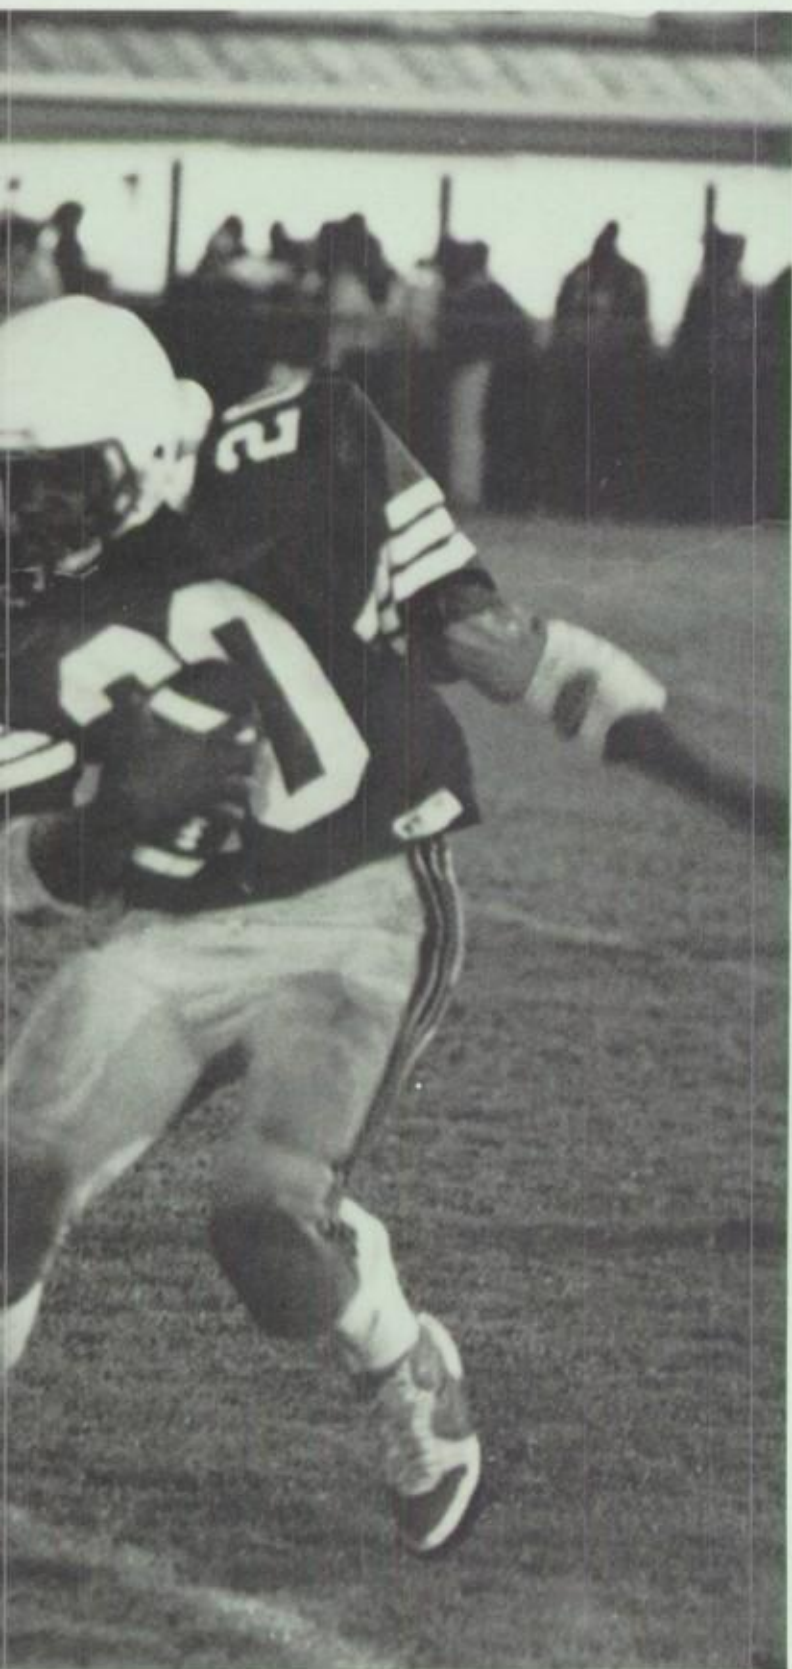

Varsity football, what an experience! The practices on the hot August nights, the aches, the pain, and the sweat. All for football. But everything pays off when the season starts. The nights cool off, and much of the conditioning is behind us. Then comes the big task, remembering all of the plays and how to perform them correctly. After many hours of practicing, the big moment comes. It is the thing we practice for every week, that grueling contest which is called football.

The football game is like a battle. Men line up to fight an enemy face to face. The offense comes to the line as they look the defense square in the eye and prepare to attack. The defense digs in deep to prepare a stand and defend their home front, the goal line. On the snap of the ball, the war begins. Thundering pads crack, and powerful arms clash in the trenches as men of great strength and determination battle to defeat their opponents and accomplish their mission. With keen mental alertness and superior athletic agility, the back cuts up the hole created by the surge on the offensive line. The defensive linemen sight in on their target thinking he is dead meat. They attack and converge on the back. The crowd sweats as bones crack and muscles tear. Bodies hurl through the air creating a massive pile-up of arms, legs, and other assorted human parts. As the smoke and dust clear, the players get up and return to their huddles and prepare to battle again. The sweat rolls, and that unmistakable football odor lingers in the night air. Relentless determination forces players to beat their bodies to pulp on each play and then come back for more on the next. Discipline, courage, determination, and sheer guts are words that become permanently embedded in your mind. And when the game is over, only in football will you find that you can hate a man with so much intensity during the game but have enough respect, win or lose, to shake his hand and show good sportsmanship after it's all over.

Through it all, the Hawk team has become one giant family, taking bone-crushing hits together, celebrating the victories, and mourning after the losses. Being on the varsity football team is something special. It is the need for competition and the love of the sport and the rough play. And, yes, it's worth all of the time and effort as we look back on a successful season.

Tuesday ("Two's day") was Doubles Day when students dressed like pairs. Wednesday was Nerd Day when people wore wild checkered pants, glasses that had been taped together, and other "uncool" outfits. On Thursday, students wore their clothes wrong-side out for Inside-Out Day, and the campus was covered with Green, Black, and White on Friday for School Colors Day.

The Homecoming game was the cause of much excitement around North Lenoir on November 7, 1986. Activities got underway with a pep rally that morning when the students were encouraged to join together and cheer for the Hawks. School was dismissed at 2:00 P.M. to allow everyone to prepare for the parade through downtown LaGrange. Several clubs had floats with themes pertaining to storybook characters in the parade. At 7:30 P.M. the fans were entertained by a pre-game show by the Fayetteville State University Band. Afterwards, the mighty Hawks took to the field against the West Craven Eagles. Just one week after North Lenoir had clinched the school's first football play-off spot ever by beating the East Carteret Mariners, they lost their Homecoming game to West Craven with a final score of 42-8. The loss to the Eagles made North Lenoir's overall record six wins and four losses for the season. In the conference, the Hawks had four wins and two losses. After playing Tarboro, ranked #3 in the state, the following week in the first round of play-offs, the Hawks would add another loss to their record. Although they were knocked out of the play-offs in the first round, the Hawks should be proud of themselves for having the best football season ever at North Lenoir. Congratulations, Hawks!

Being a cheerleader proves to be a real challenge, one that is both exciting and rewarding. It gives us opportunities to express our creativity and meet other people with the same interests. We take the sport seriously, and we know as well as the team members do the thrill of victory and the despair of defeat.

Cheerleading requires a great deal of dedication and hard work which begins during the summer and lasts all year. We spend long hours practicing and planning for games, pep rallies, and competitions. Along with the hard work come lots of bruises. Finally the moment of glory arrives, and we perform for the crowd or cheer our team on to victory.

We consider our squad a family as we share jokes, arguments, secrets, and tears. We cry when our team loses; we celebrate when they win. This is a feeling of closeness which must be experienced to be understood.

It takes a special young lady to be a Lady Hawk. She must endure harsh tryouts, many long hours of practice, and, most of all, she must have determination. Each team member must set high goals as the team works for achievement. This was outwardly expressed by the 1986-87 North Lenoir volleyball team. Each member devoted time, hard work and sometimes even pain. The Lady Hawk volleyball team is young, but in its six year history has proven to be as strong as other well known names in our conference. We are confident that in the future our team will continue to grow and to strive for athletic excellence at North Lenoir.

Practicing every day, running "suicides" up and down the court, drilling for hours on end, working together as a team to secure another victory and holding always in the back of our minds the thoughts of the championship, we are the Lady Hawks.

We dash onto the gym floor prepared to play our best, desiring a victory, while dreading a defeat. The ball is tossed and play begins. Thunderous cheers resound throughout the gym whenever we score. We do not hear the cheering crowd, however, because our attention is solely focussed on playing our best.

As the quarters pass and the clock runs down, tension mounts. If our team is ahead, we still play hard to maintain our lead. If we are behind, we fight for all we are worth to make a last-minute comeback.

After the game is over, it's back to practicing. We forget the past games and look forward to the next one.

AS TIME RUNS OUT

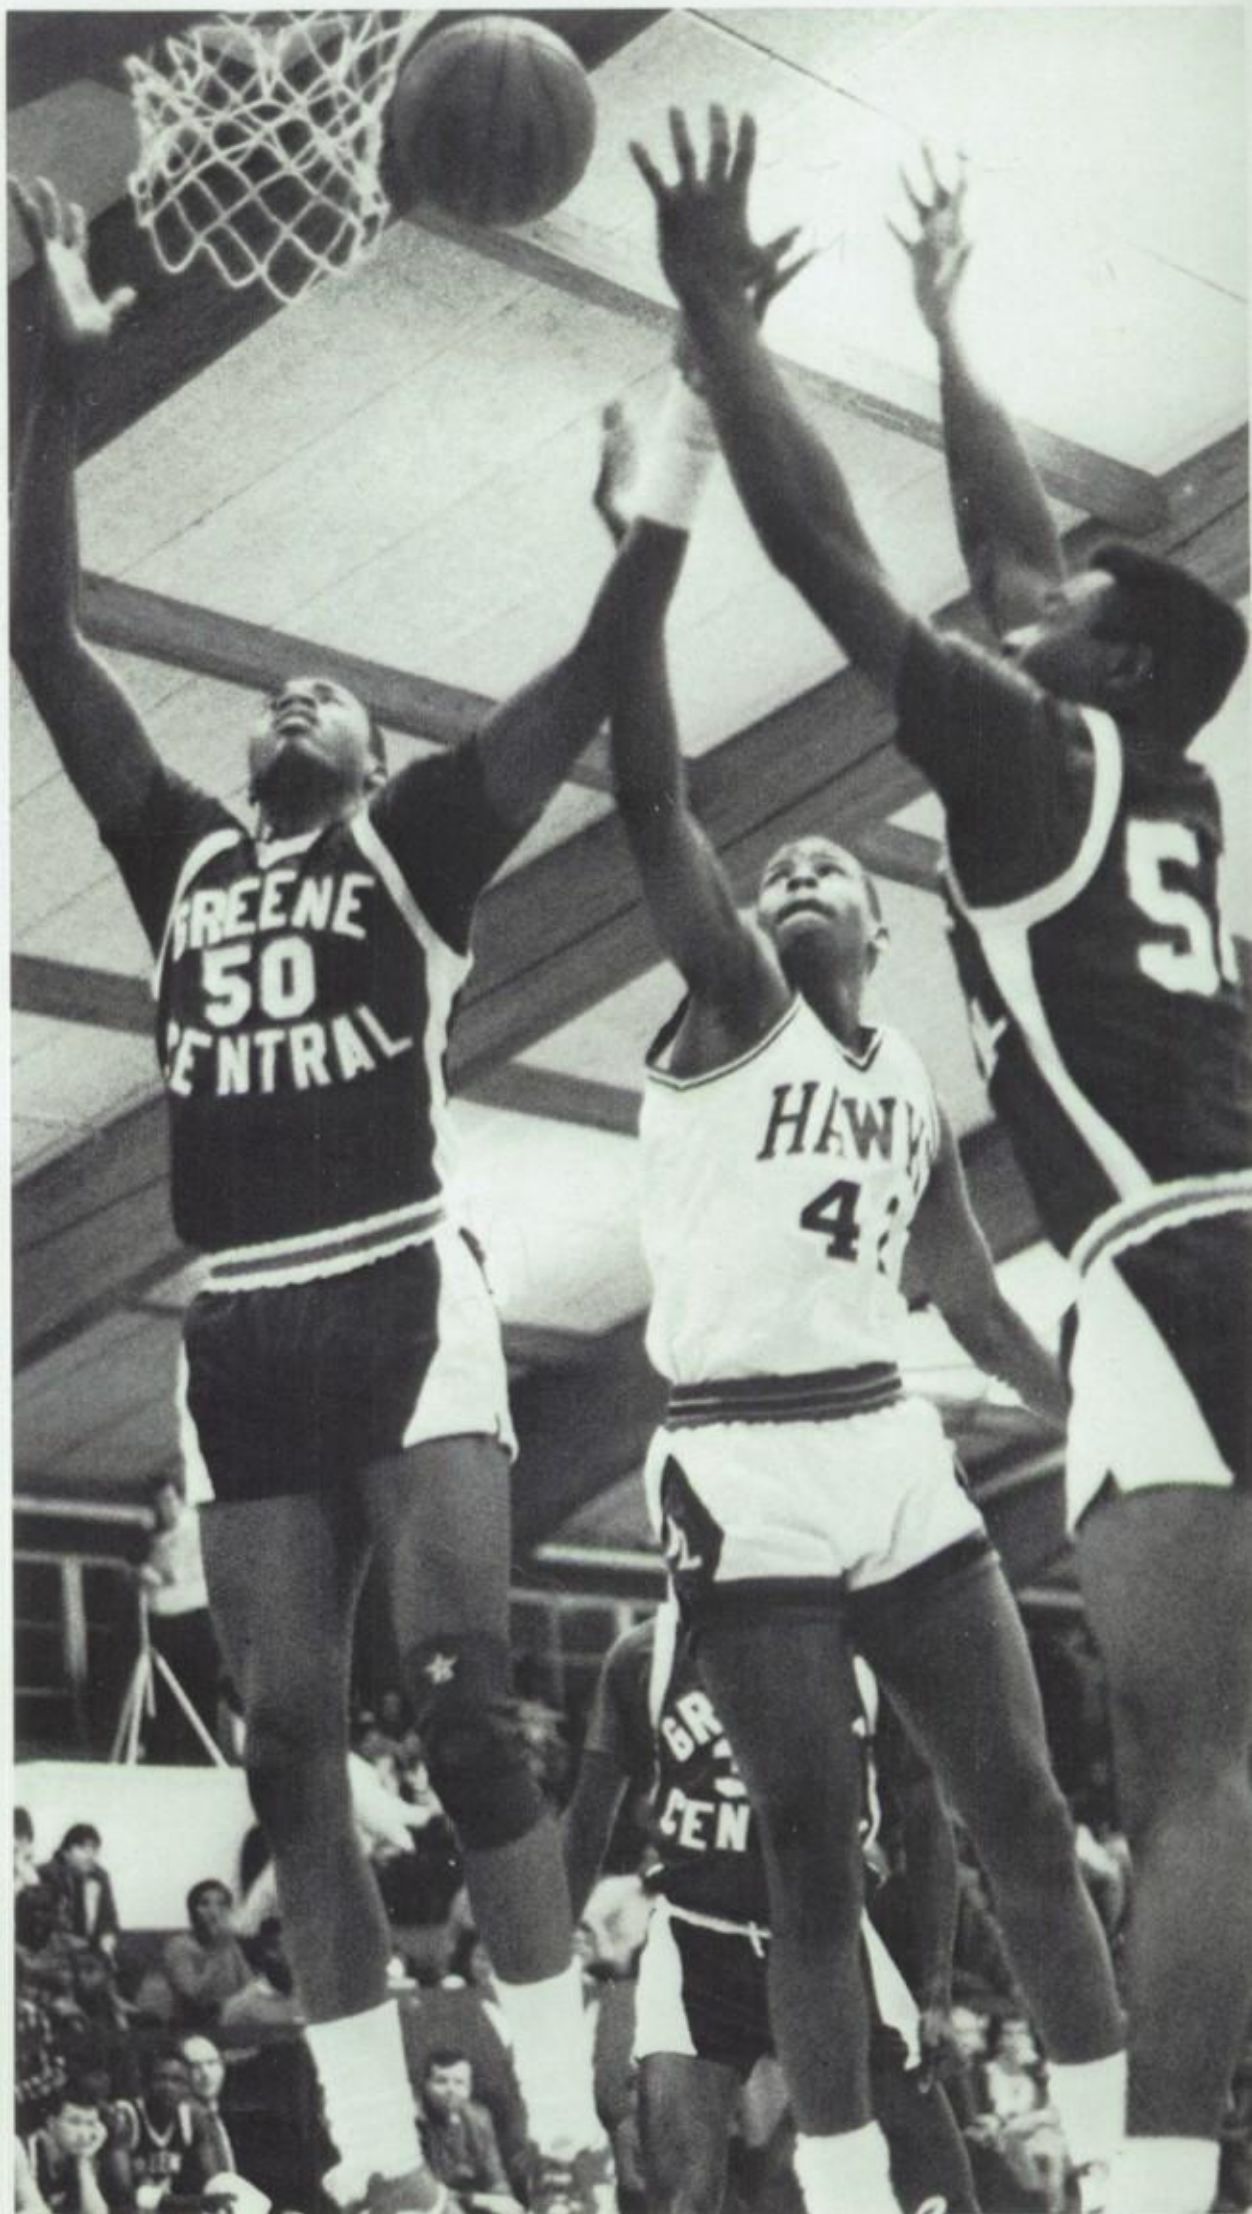

Varsity Boys Basketball, one of the most publicized of the winter sports at North Lenoir, is a great crowd pleaser. The excitement the crowd generates inspires the team to do its very best. Encouraged by all to win, the team members work diligently at practice, and this is evident on and off the court.

Here at North Lenoir, our players strive to be well-rounded in all aspects of high school life. With this, our guys learn the true meaning of hard work, determination, and sportsmanship.

These young men have to meet stiff requirements. They have to be in shape both physically and mentally, have good knowledge of the game, possess great hand-eye coordination, and demonstrate the ability to control the ball when it comes to them. It takes extensive training to develop the abilities needed to play this game. Throughout those long hours of practice, the team members become comrades unlike any others as they learn that respect for one another is a key factor in maintaining a winning team.

With the outlooks these athletes hold, it is no surprise that they achieve success. Although not every contest ends in a North Lenoir victory, the individual player retains pride in a job well done.

J.V. BASKETBALL

J.V. Basketball begins the proud tradition of the Hawks, as the players show tremendous potential for the future Varsity team. The new generation has already started to live up to the tradition. The practices are hard work, but even though our Baby Hawks are still in the learning stages, they are receiving the much needed playing time to prepare them for the Hawk Varsity level of competition.

SPRING SPORTS

Spring has come; The hot sun's near. Spring Sports are back; Great athletes, near. Soon we'll have baseball, softball, and track. Watch out, world! the Hawks are back.

After months of winter weather, everyone looks forward to being out of doors and participating in spring sports. Softball is a way for the girls to participate. Softball takes a lot of hard work and dedication. Whether catching, sliding, or batting, the girls agree that all of the practice is worth it. Top right: April McLawhorn and Sherry Sells run to practice.

Baseball is also a difficult sport. Tremendous concentration and skill go into each game. It's all well worth it when the team wins. Track takes much time and training. It is necessary to have stamina as well as strength. In the end the gain is worth the pain. The track team members were: Tony Abrom, Ray Battle, Kim Bizzel, Tommy Brown, Fred Bouie, Jeremy Copeland, Kirby Dawson, Tom Galloway, Kenneth Gray, Gretta Harris, Stacy Heath, Anthony Johnson, Bobby Jones, David Jones, Merrill Jones, Ronald Maye, Jesse Mayo, Tanya McLawhorn, Brent Moody, Scott Moore, Lonza Mewborn, Dave Pratt, Curtis Redmond, Chad Robinson, Robin Stroud, Dean Tyre, Gene Tyndall, Ken Wessel, and Desmond Whitfield. Middle right: Bobby Jones goes down for the count. Desmond Whitfield cools off. Right: Tony Abrom prepares for victory.

Spring Sports, as well as all other sports, would not be possible without our Booster Club. The North Lenoir Booster Club supports our athletic program and participates in many activities to raise money for the different sports. Bottom right: The Booster Club supports sports through many fund raising events. The money they raise enables us to have athletic banquets and new equipment.

VARSITY

Baseball, leading the year-end activities, attracts many people. Proud parents, loyal fans, and school mates attend these nine-inning games to display school pride, confidence, and to support their team. Since early in the cold month of February, the Varsity baseball team has been in training. After the disappointing "86" season, Coach Wayne Barwick has changed the traditional practice session. This year Coach Barwick is stressing the fundamentals. He states, "This year's team does not have only one or two outstanding players; everyone is of the same caliber." With this in mind, our team should have the traditional good year that the students are accustomed to.

BASEBALL

JAYVEE BASEBALL

The 1986 Jayvee Baseball Team had a great abundance of young talent. Though they had to endure the cold weather and hard times, this new generation of Hawks proved to be unsurpassable. They won eleven of their twelve games, allowing them to go on to win the 3-A Conference division of Jayvee baseball. Top: Shawn Heath in action. Bottom: Jeremy Copeland catches one for the team!

rganization

As each new school year begins, so does the recruiting of new members for many of North Lenoir's clubs and organizations. These clubs and organizations offer much more than support for school activities; they offer a sense of accomplishment and unity to their members.

Several clubs, such as FFA, HOSA, VICA, FHA, FBLA, and DECA, are nationally chartered organizations. Their members have brought much success and recognition to themselves, as well as to North Lenoir. And thanks to so many dedicated advisers, North Lenoir has several of its own clubs in addition to those that are nationally chartered.

This year North Lenoir has even more to be proud of. Three new clubs have been established: the Media Club, Future Teachers of America, and the Monogram Club.
 These new clubs, along with the Science, Math, Industrial Arts, French and Spanish, are a beneficial part of the education system at North Lenoir.

But more importantly, these clubs give every student the opportunity to be a part of a team and make new friends. They allow the students to help others, to compete on various levels, and to learn to be better individuals.

The Future Farmers of America Club is one of the largest clubs at North Lenoir with two hundred and ten members. They have many school projects. The projects include painting the mobile classrooms, landscaping parts of the school grounds, and providing plants and flowers for the Junior-Senior Prom and graduation.

Their purpose is to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship. Our school chapter of the FFA has won many awards, such as the State Winning Poultry Team, the State Chapter Safety Award, State Proficiency Awards, District Proficiency Awards, and numerous others on county and district levels.

FFA officers this year are President Paul Parker, Vice-President Ricky Sutton, Secretary Kris Williams, Treasurer Dan Sharp, Reporter Scott Radford, Sentinel Lisa Foyles, Chaplain Marla Boone, Historian Angie Mewborn, and Parliamentarian Matthew Poteat.

FBLA

Future Business Leaders of America is a club open to students taking business courses. FBLA helps members acquire knowledge while simultaneously finding enjoyment in the work they perform. The club's main objective is to develop competent, aggressive business leaders. A few of their activities include the Fall District Leadership Conference, the District FBLA contest, a fund raising candy sale, a trip to Busch Gardens, and the presentation of the FBLA Scholarship to a qualifying senior.

MATH

The purposes of the Math Club are to promote scholarship, leadership, and good citizenship and to encourage interest and competence in math skills. There are fifty-one members in the club this year. The officers are President Paula Spitler, Vice-President Deedrah Respass, Secretary Cindy Alphin, and Treasurer Amy Hinson. The Math Club sponsors many projects throughout the year. One project is participation of math students in the annual Math Contest at East Carolina University. The club also assists with the Math/Science/Computer Fair. Recently, members have worked very hard in organizing a newsletter. In addition, various fundraisers to finance their projects have been the responsibilities of the club members.

FHA

Future Homemakers of America has 140 dedicated members for the 1986-87 school year.

FHA provides opportunities for the development and preparation for the family and community living and for employment. During the school year, FHA is busy with many school projects. Welcome tags have been made for new faculty members. A Retirement Plaque, honoring retired teachers, has been placed in the office. In the spring the FHA members plan to plant a rose garden beside the Home Economics Building.

FHA has won many awards from the events they have participated in. These include first place in the Fair Booth Competition at the Lenoir County Fair, first place float in the NL Homecoming Parade in LaGrange, and third place in the Kinston Christmas Parade.

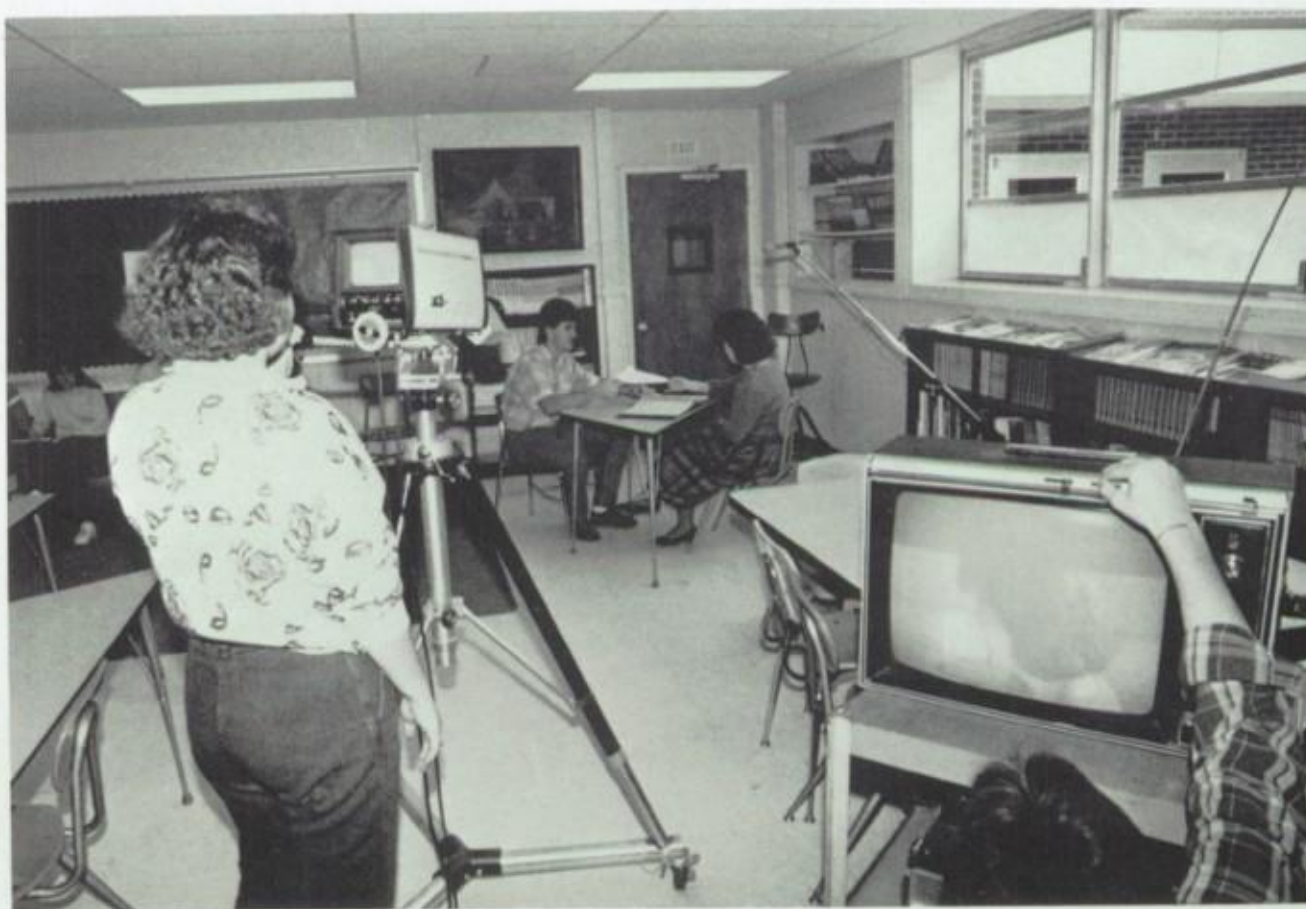

The officers for the 1986-87 school year are President Stephanie Hardy, Vice-President Sharon Davis, Secretary Tammy Tesh, Treasurer Nicole Sutton, Parliamentarian Tabitha King, Vice-President Program of Work Karen Ham, Vice-President Public Relations Kecia Kittrell, and Vice-President of Recognition Terri Combs.

DECA

DECA has 47 members for the 1986-87 school year. Club officers are President Teena Parris, and Vice Presidents Felicia Ashford, Lisa Meready, Michelle Taylor and Pam Tyndall. DECA'S goals are to stimulate professional growth of students entering the field of distribution and marketing, develop skills in human relations through satisfactory social and recreational activities, and provide opportunities for leadership development.

DECA is an active organization. The club participated in the Homecoming Parade and won third place for their float. They also received special recognition at the district training for local officers. DECA attended the District Leadership Conference in the fall where they elected district officers. The DECA officers attended the Local Officer Training where they learned how to become better leaders. This year DECA hosted District Competitive Events Conference at LCC, and the members of the club competed against other schools for awards. DECA also attended the State Leadership Conference in Winston-Salem.

The members of DECA are Felicia Ashford, Cynthia Albritton, Amanda Allison, Wright Barbour, Marla Boone, Billy Carr, Scott Clark, Gretchen Clemmons, Lori Everette, Lynn Ewell, Jimmy Faulkner, Shelia Graham, Benita Grant, Lori Gurley, Karen Hardy, Tracy Hardy, Sharon Hawkins, Chris Hill, Tina Irvin, Angie Jones, Deborah Jones, Michelle Kittrell, Delynn Lewis, Susan Lewis, Lisa Meready, Kelly Milford, Eddie Oliver, Teena Parris, Dawn Phillips, Lisa Pollock, Melissa Potter, Vicky Purser, Carol Riggs, Ronnie Roberson, Dawn Rouse, Kim Smith, Clint Stovall, Jennifer Sutton, Michelle Taylor, Ken Thigpen, Bryan Thompson, Kim Tilghman, Jennifer Trivette, Pam Tyndall, Jodi West, Lynn White and Barbara Worthington.

FRENCH

The French Club has 79 members this year. They will make a contribution to the school as their club project. Some of the highlights of the French Club's year will be singing French Christmas carols; eating Bûche de Noël, a Christmas tradition in France; going to a French presentation in Raleigh; and purchasing a French magazine for the French classes to enjoy. At the end of the year an award will be given to an outstanding student at each grade level in French.

The French club tries to create interest in the French language and culture. Officers of the club are President Beth Batts, Vice-President Matthew Poteat, Secretary Michele Reynolds, Treasurer Brady Puckett, Reporter Missy Hill. Other members are Heath Akins, Angela Aldridge, Jerri Lynn Alphin, Lee Avery, Kevin Aycock, Beth Barber, Scotty Barnhill, Tracy Barwick, Beth Batts, Tracey Best, Tonya Boone, Monica Cox, Dannie Daugherty, Kirk Davis, Bobby Dawson, Dana Deluise, Tyra Dupree, Ann Duvall, Ginger Evans, Holly Goodwin, Sherri Gray, Teri Gray, Monique Green, Stephanie Ham, Pam Harper, Amy Henderson, Charlie Herring, Jeff Herring, Denise Hill, Missy Hill, Dave Hinson, Linda Holmes, Randy Huggins, Rickie Killinger, Debbie Kinsey, Andy Lovette, Christy Maquire, Suzanne Mason, Michele Mayo, Kelly McCoy, Craig McCoy, April McLawhom, Daryl McNeal, Sharon Mervin, Scott Moore, Patricia Mazingo, Nissa Newborn, Robin Owens, Karen Pearce, Lizzie Pike, Karen Pless, Matthew Poteat, Jimmy Privette, Brady Puckett, Michele Reynolds, Chris Russell, Kim Sanders, Sherry Sells, Carol Singleton, Ashley Smith, Jonathan Smith, Tiffany Stainback, Wendi Stainback, Jeannie Stallings, Glen Stalnaker, David Stocks, Cheryl Sutton, Jackie Sutton, Jeff Sutton, Lisa Thompson, Penny Tingen, Jennifer Trivette, Pam Tyndall, Chris Vick, Scott Vojta, Tammy Watson, Devin Westbrook, Emonique Wooten, and April Everette.

SCA

The Student Council Association is composed of 56 members. The purpose of the Student Council is to lead the entire student body. This organization is the core of the main functions that take place during the school year. S.C.A. sponsors many school projects, which include a food drive for needy families at Christmas, rose and balloon sales on Valentine's day, and the Homecoming Dance. Other dances to raise money to contribute to the school are also sponsored. SCA encourages democracy in today's youth and helps students become excellent leaders for a better tomorrow.

Officers of SCA are President Paula Gurley, Vice-President Kelley Hart, Secretary Dawn Daughety, Treasurer Monique Green. The members are Kristen Allen, Tarsha Barnes, Lee Barnhill, Juwarne Chapman, Tachala Dawson, Nicole Gooding, Nicole Grainger, Christine Gray, Sheronica Joyner, LaShawn Koonce, Robbie Moore, Tina Newman, Sandra Radford, Steve Rouse, Angela Smith, Bobby Dawson, Teri Gray, Holly Goodwin, Lynn Hall, Tina Hemby, Penny Tingen, Terence Best, Doug Craig, Felecia Exum, Lesley Foss, Monique Greene, Stephanie Ham, Nicky Lee, Lori Lewis, April McLawhorn, Karen Pearce, Karen Pless, Matthew Poteat, Kim Sanders, Sharon Stevens, Wendi Stainback, Karen Sutton, Steven Williams, Felicia Ashford, Vonda Best, Dawn Daughety, Paula Gurley, Kelly Hart, Dereck Haskins, Donna Howard, Cynthia King, Debbie Kinsey, Suzanne Mason, Stephanie Pope, Opal Rouse, Sherry Sells, Willa Stallings, Necole Washington, Jenny Wiggins, Deborah Williams, Terrell Worthem, Amy Hill, and Amy Odom.

VICA

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is an organization in which members learn how to become competent workers in their chosen occupation. This club helps members to develop their leadership abilities. The VICA motto nationwide is, "Preparing for Leadership in the World of Work."

HOSA

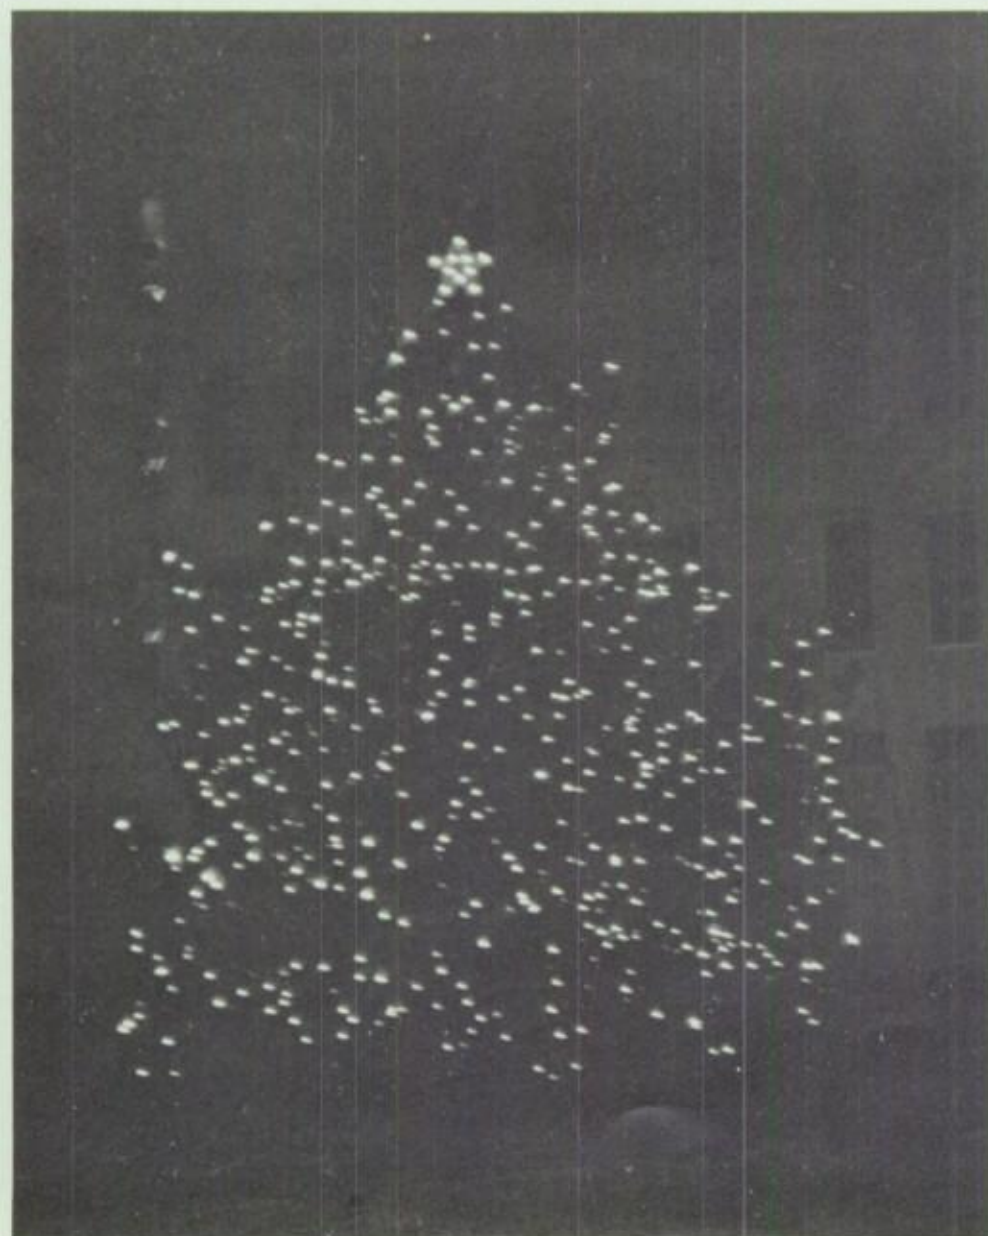

This year the Health Occupation Students of America's theme is "See How Far We've Come — Watch How Far We Go." HOSA's focus is "HOE-HOSA: A Healthy Partnership." With 78 members, HOSA has a busy and exciting year planned. Projects include holding a blood pressure clinic, helping a needy family with a turkey and other Thanksgiving foods from HOSA in November, visiting the Pediatric and other floors at Lenoir Memorial Hospital and taking handmade Christmas cards with favors on December 19, sponsoring the blood mobile in February for the faculty, students and public at North Lenoir and holding a cancer clinic in February for senior girls. HOSA was also involved in the "Lights of Love" project at Lenoir Memorial Hospital. Lights and stars were lit in memory or honor of a certain person. HOSA made a memorial to the family of dead students from North Lenoir High School from the years 1980-1986.

HOSA also had special guest speakers at certain meetings, such as Ms. Kathy Brown, Manager of the Ronald McDonald House, Greenville.

The officers are President Cindy Alphin, Vice-President Kim Chapman, Secretary Elisha Hill, Treasurer Tammy Harrison, Reporter Gretchen Kneib, Historian Erika Kneib, Parliamentarian Emonique Wooten, Photographer Michelle Minshew. The members are Angela Aldridge, Michelle Allen, Cynthia Atkins, Beth Batts, Sheryl Boheler, Tonya Boone, Tracey Brown, Kelley Carter, Michelle Carter, Tammy Combs, Stephanie Connor, Brenda Dawson, Lidelle Dawson, Davida Dildy, Tyra Dupree, Ann Duvall, Ginger Early, Myra Enzor, Ginger Evans, Jenny Gardner, Anthony Graham, Jackie Graham, Sherri Gray, Pam Harper, Renee Herring, Rhonda Holmes, Donna Howard, Shannon Howard, Regina Johnson, Cindy Jones, Veronica Joyner, Palge Killelte, Fabienne Kittrell, Vashita Kittrell, Jerri Lively, Marsha Manning, Michele Mayo, Christine McClain, Teresa McKinney, Wanda McKinney, April McLawhorn, Sharnetta Moore, Amanda Morgante, Kristen Owens, Robin Owens, Karen Pearce, Karen Pless, Melissa Potter, Micki Quinn, Michelle Reynolds, Opal Rouse, Kim Sanders, Beth Sharber, Kim Smith, Suzanne Spence, Amanda Stevens, Cheryl Sutton, Shemina Sutton, Vangelina Sutton, Judy Sykes, Donna Thomas, Kim Tilghman, Penny Tingen, Valerie Trent, Shante Washington, Regina Waters, Jenny Wiggins, Tammy Wiggins, DeAnna Williams, and Lisa Williams.

MEDIA

The Media Club is set up to promote interest in library, audio-visual, and computer work. Its project is to promote the use of libraries, particularly during National Library Week in April. This year Dr. Elliot Engel is doing several of his Dickens Presentations in the Media Center for the senior English classes in celebration of National Library Week.

The Media Club has 33 members. The officers are President Billy Small, Vice-President Kent Alford, Secretary Janis Brown, and Treasurer Nicole Tripp. The Media Club members are Kent Alford, Janis Brown, Mike Carlyle, Tammy Combs, Amber Dawson, Mike Gagliano, Jenny Gardner, Cathy Gray, Pam Harper, Corona Hines, John Ipock, Ben Keeter, Fanny King, Sherry Letchworth, Andy Lovette, Kelly McCoy, Michele Mayo, Geoffry Mills, Tina Newman, Kirk Phillips, Sandra Radford, Scott Radford, Sandy Shirley, Billy Small, John Stallings, Amanda Stevens, Joanna Stovall, Nicole Tripp, Katherine Washington, Devin Westbrook, Corbina Williams, and Lori Woodard.

Future Teachers of America is designed to provide activities for members that are consistent with two basic purposes of FTA, student involvement and career exploration.

FTA's main project is a student assist project. This project allows students to get real experience as teachers. The purpose of this project is to help students see if they have the abilities to participate in a career in education.

The adviser for FTA is Audrey R. Bell. The dues are $5.00. Those students in grades 9-12 who have an interest in education and have maintained an 80 or above average are eligible for membership.

Officers of FTA are President Opal Rouse, Vice President Amy Odom, Treasurer Jerrilyn Harris, Secretary Michelle Carter, Historian Necole Washington, and Reporter Paula Hughes. The members are Jerri Alphin, Monyetta Bellamy, Marion Carter, Tabitha Collins, Jackie Graham, Jerrilyn Harris, Shonda Hines, Paula Hughes, Debbie Kinsey, Fabrienne Kittrell, Vashita Kittrell, Angela Loftin, Sharon Mervin, Sonji Moore, Amy Odom, Opal Rouse, Ashlyn Southerland, Valerie Trent, and Necole Washington.

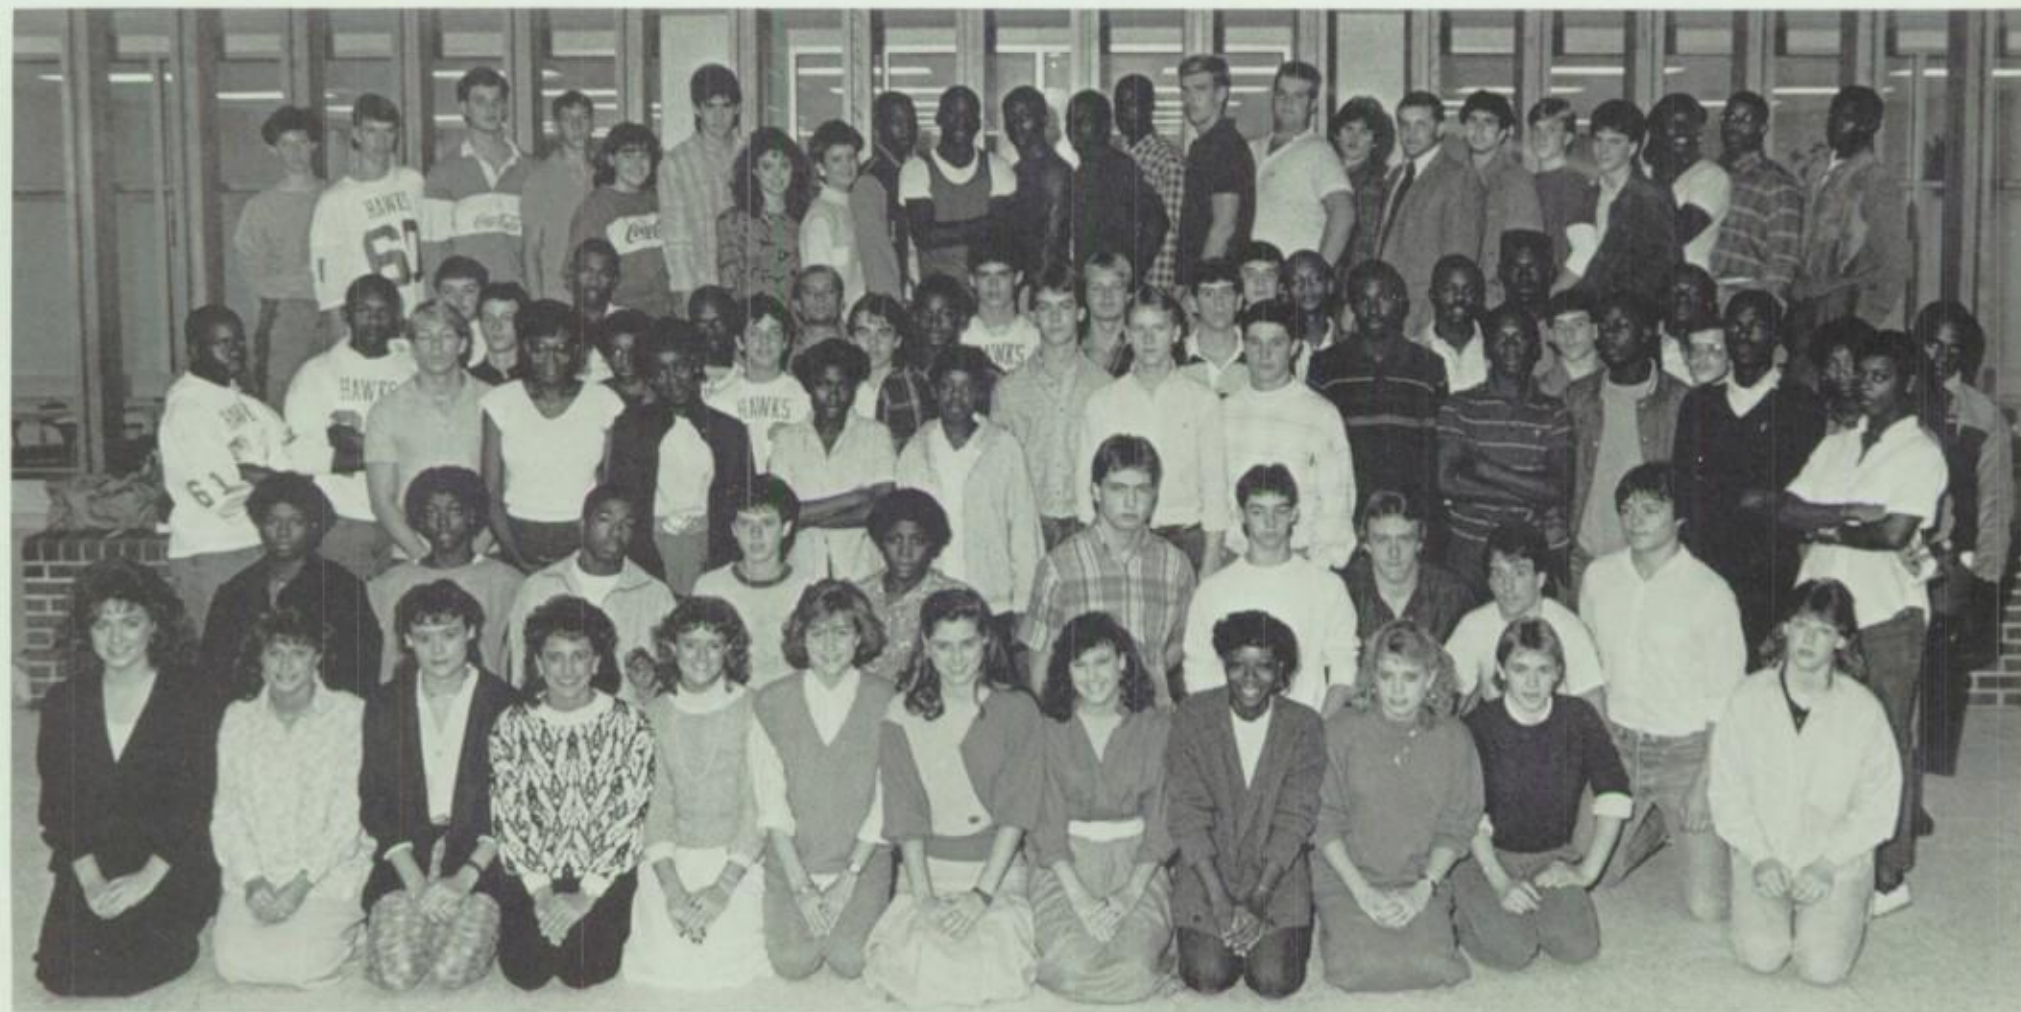

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The Industrial Arts Club is composed of freshman who are interested in the technical field of work. Students get hands-on experience building such things as floats and house construction models. This club helps students to develop their talents by encouraging leadership, responsibility, pride in one's work, and respect for others.

The officers of the Industrial Arts Club are President Doug Fidler, Vice-President Michele Altman, Secretary Doug Hill, Treasurer Burney Harrelson, Reporter Greg Sorkell, and Sergeant at Arms Dustin Sanders. The members include Ronnie Wadder, Charles Taylor, Jay Cade, Tony Taylor, Timmy Teel, Chris Roddy, Mark Wyatt, Earl Odham, Jeff Carruth, Billy Hudson, Tracy Whitfield, David Hardy, and Daryl House.

MONOGRAM

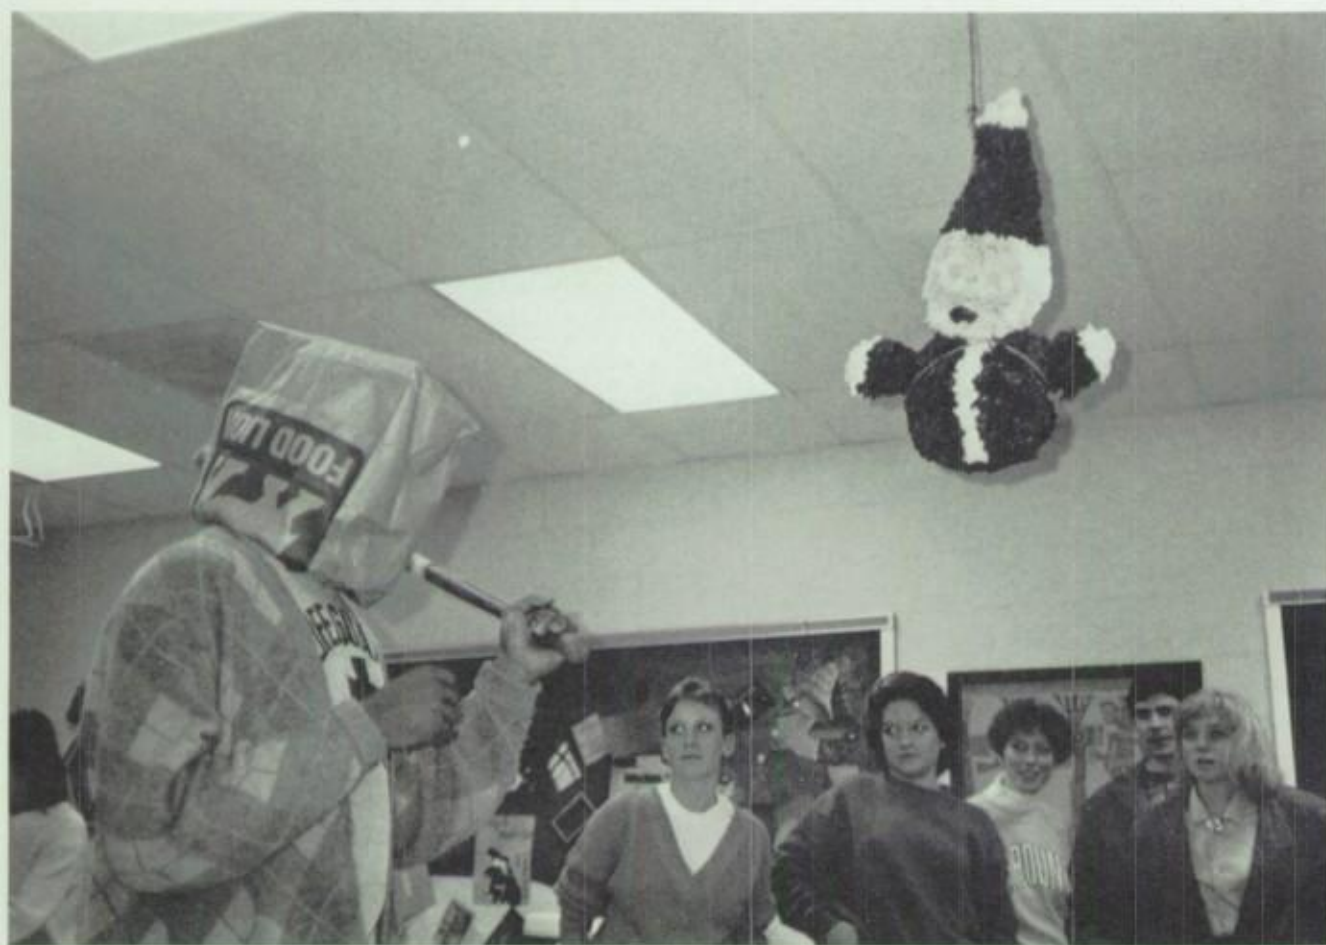

The Monogram Club is a new organization at North Lenoir. All athletes are eligible to join. This club has high expectations for its members, and many activities have been planned. Ben Wiggins is President of the Monogram Club. This year's members are Robert Abrom, Tony Abrom, Chuck Allison, Heath Akins, Wright Barbour, Lee Barnhill, Scotty Barnhill, Bryant Becton, Jennifer Best, Tracy Best, Corey Bouie, Deon Bouie, Tisha Bouie, Tommy Brown, Billy Burns, Brad Carter, Pat Carter, Melissa Collie, Jeremy Copeland, Paul Courtney, Doug Craig, Grey Daniels, Bobby Dawson, Eddie Dawson, Ann Duvall, Bonnie Faulkner, Eddie Floyd, Lesley Foss, William Galloway, Travis Gardner, Nicole Gooding, Kenneth Gray, Stephanie Ham, Robert Harrel, Dave Harrelson, Shawn Heath, Charles Herring, Jeff Herring, Mike Herring, Willie Herring, Jhanda Hines, Amy Hinson, Dave Hinson, Bert Hoell, John Howard, Randy Huggins, Paula Hughes, Corey Jackson, Ronald Johnson, Clay Jones, Clifton Jones, Daryl Jones, Dennis Jones, Lafondras Jones, Letisha Jones, Shervica Joyner, Rickie Killinger, Norwood Kitrell, Roland Kitrell, Vashita Kitrell, Eric Lemmon, Heather Lyon, Christy MacQuire, Jessie Mayor, April McLawhorn, Alex McMillan, Daryl McNeal, Bernard Miller, Donald Mitchell, Brent Moody, Perry Moore, Robbie Moore, Bryan Mozingo, Leon Morgan, Amy Odom, Christel Parrish, Gene Peacock, Andre Perry, Patrick Phillipe, Dave Pratt, Chris Price, Brady Puckett, Michelle Reynolds, Kim Sanders, Laura Sanders, Elisha Scott, Corie Smith, Tim Smith, Mike Spears, Sheri Stainback, Wendi Stainback, Willa Stallings, Steve Stroud, James Sutton, Tony Sutton, Willie Sutton, Sherry Swinson, Dean Tyer, Jodi West, Lisa West, Marty West, Mickey Whaley, Desmond Whitfield, Vanessa Whitfield, Ben Wiggins, David Williams, Ernest Williams, Ralfiel Worthem, and LaSheryl Wooten.

The members of the Spanish Club are Cynthia Albritton, Angela Britt, Janis Brown, Billy Burns, Kelley Carter, Stephanie Connor, Lidelle Dawson, Davida Dildy, Todd Edwards, Felecia Exum, Eddie Floyd, Chris Hardison, Brett Hardy, Stephanie Hardy, Erinn Joyner, Lori Lewis, Angela Reynolds, Kimberly Smith, Karen Sutton, Norman Thompson, Debbie Wade, Tammy Waters, Ella Wooten, Armeta Allen, Vonda Best, Marla Boone, Douglas Craig, Ginger Early, Laura Foss, Danny Franks, Melissa Harding, Dave Harrelson, Dereck Haskins, Regina Johnson, Willie Kittrell, Susan Lewis, Tonya McLaurin, Jacqueline Morris, William Mumford, Amy Odom, Christel Parrish, Charlette Patrick, Gary Pridgen, Kristie Register, Lisa Register, Clinton Stovall, Tammy Sutton, Nicole Tripp, Melissa Wilkins, Tyrone Cannon, Michael Carlyle, Jowana Grant, Sonia Howard, John Ipock, Cindy Jones, Sherry Letchworth, Angie Linton, Marsha Manning, Glen Marshburn, Jeff Mills, Sharnetta Moore, Kristen Owens, Sara Parker, Jay Perry, Kirk Phillips, Ann Selbe, Paula Smith, Jonathan Stallings, Carol Stiver-son, Diana Waller, Sherry Hunold, Cynthia Atkins, Monyetta Bellamy, Angela Bradshaw, Pat Carter, Sharron Courtney, Dana Cousins, Jeff Garvey, Andrea Gray, John Howard, Charlie Johnson, Alton Joyner, Jonathan Kleckner, Angela Markle, Craig Mitchell, Leon Morgan, Mark Rich, Jeff Rouse, Juan Skinner, Rob Thompson, Tammy Wiggins, LeSheryl Wootson, Claude Becton, Jennifer Best, Letitia Bouie, Kara Chamberlin, Karen Ham, Chris Hill, Melony Hinson, Charles Holloman, Betty Jo Huggins, Chris Hughes, Paula Hughes, Tommy Hughes, Michelle Jarman, Deborah Jones, Vashti Kittrell, Jamie Lender, Tony Manning, Ramacina Mitchell, Dewey Mooring, Melissa Parker, Rhonda Quinn, Suzanne Spence, Ron Taylor, Lana Weston, Bevan Whaley, Glenn Whitley, and Kris Williams.

Viva el espanol! The Spanish Club offers an opportunity for the Spanish students to participate in some of the cultural activities which are enjoyed by people of the Spanish-speaking world. The club raises money each year to help pay for a trip to see a Spanish play, a ballet, or some other performance portraying the cultural traditions of the Hispanic world. This trip includes a stop at a restaurant specializing in Mexican cuisine or other foods characteristic of the Spanish-speaking cultures. This is the highlight of the year for all Spanish 2 students. Christmas is especially enjoyable with the breaking of the pinata, making Christmas cards, and learning to sing the Christmas carols in Spanish.

Club officers are President Vonda Best, Vice-President Marla Boone, Secretary Christel Parrish, Treasurer Renee Morris, Parliamentarian Kim Smith, and Reporters William Mumford and Amy Odom.

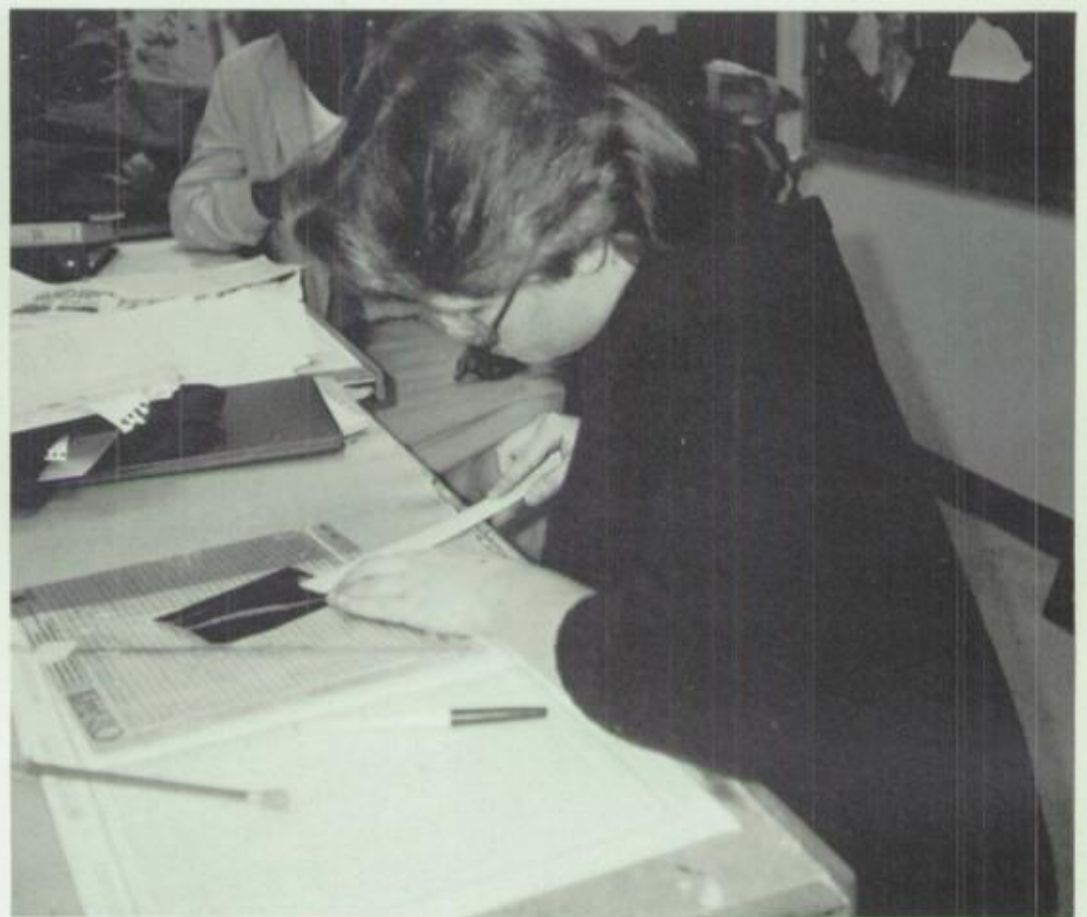

EL CONDOR

The 1986-87 members of the El Condor Annual Staff started the school year early by selling ads during the summer. When school started, everyone was assigned a homeroom to go to each morning and sell yearbooks. After yearbook sales ended, staff members proceeded to take pictures, draw layouts, type, proofread and correct copy. A few staff members began to learn how to do type-setting and page make-up on the computer. When these skills are mastered, the annual staff will be able to send Hunter Publishing most of the plans for the annual on a computer disc rather than sending in stacks of layout and copy pages.

Staff members are Amy Odom, Beth Batts, Beth Sharber, Deedrah Respass, Janis Brown, Dawn Daughety, LaJuan Holmes, Necole Washington, Jackie Graham, Doug Craig, Sharron Courtney, Devin Westbrook, Karen Sutton, Wendi Stainback, Lesley Foss, Bobbi Cole, Sara Parker, and Lynn Hall. The advisers are Mildred Suits and Cile Beaman.

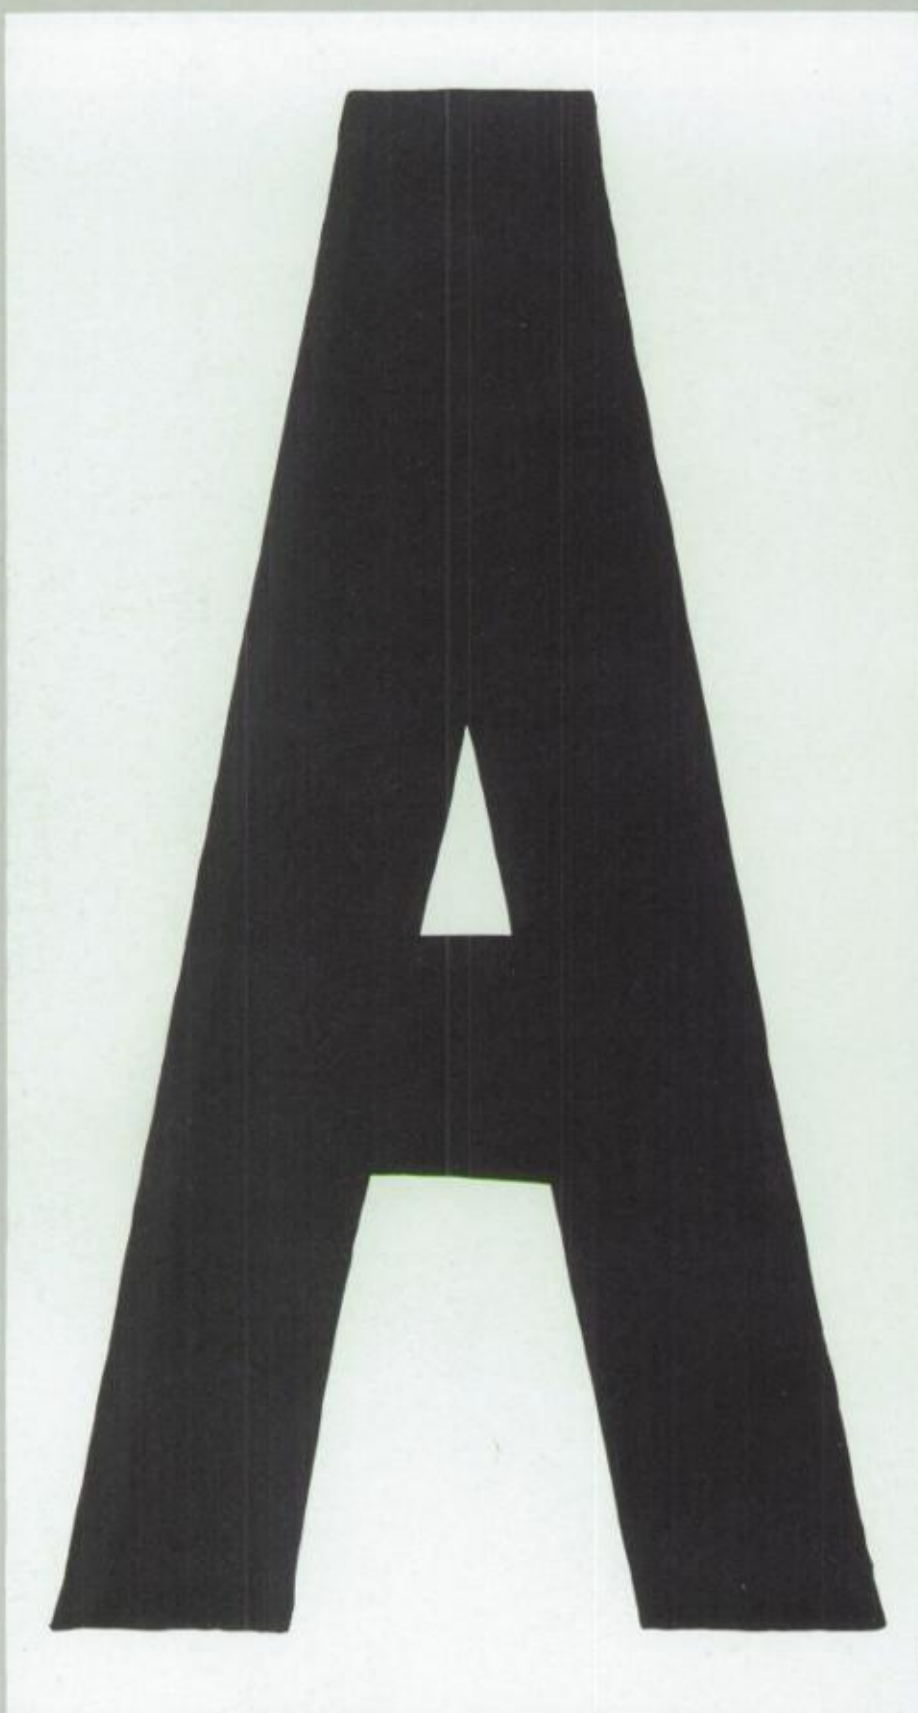

EL CONDOR

Working on the staff of El Condor is an invaluable survival experience in working with others to create a yearbook which makes all of us proud.

wards

This year, the students of North Lenoir are continuing to uphold high standards, as always, in achieving their goals. These students have the capacity to attain their goals by applying the qualities of leadership, service, character, honor, and dedication. All of these qualities combined have made our school achievers excellent in many areas.

Many students are selected to be in Advanced Placement programs because of excellent grades in advanced classes. Some are chosen for the National Honor Society. Members may then qualify for membership in Who's Who Among American High School Students and The Society of Distinguished American

High School Students.

Also, students with the highest grade point average in each grade level are selected as marshals. For others, an invitation to the Academic Banquet is earned by the students who maintain a minimum average of 93. Academically gifted students frequently earn the prestige of being chosen for Governor's School.

Students are also honored and rewarded in club competitions, contests, sports, band and other specialized fields.

North Lenoir students who demonstrate such qualities as leadership, service, character, honor, and dedication are making positive contributions to preserve our school's heritage.

THE SOCIETY OF DISTINGUISHED AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS AND WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Students who are in The Society of Distinguished American High School Students and Who's Who Among American High School Students have distinguished themselves as some of the nation's highest achievers. They are Michelle Taylor, Trina Herring, Gretchen Kneib, Amy Hinson, Crandall Anderson, Amy Hill, Beth Sharber, Paula Hughes, Necole Washington, Jeff Kennedy, Chuck Hall, Paul Parker, Jeff Barnes, Deedrah Respass, Charles Herring, Dereck Haskins, Vonda Best, Chris Crute, Paula Gurley, Shannon Howard, Todd Koehler, Cindy Alphin, Dawn Daughety, William Mumford, Terrell Worthem, Brett Hardy, Felicia Ashford, Myra Enzor, Beth Batts, and Allen Jackson.

MARSHALLS

The 1985-86 marshalls are Amy Hill, Dawn Rouse, Devin Westbrook, Karen Hardy, Erika Kneib, Terrell Worthem, Michael Carlyle, Andy Lovette, Tommy Hughes, Brady Puckett, Rhonda Quinn, Charles Herring, Necole Washington, Deedrah Respass, Paul Parker, and Kelley Carter.

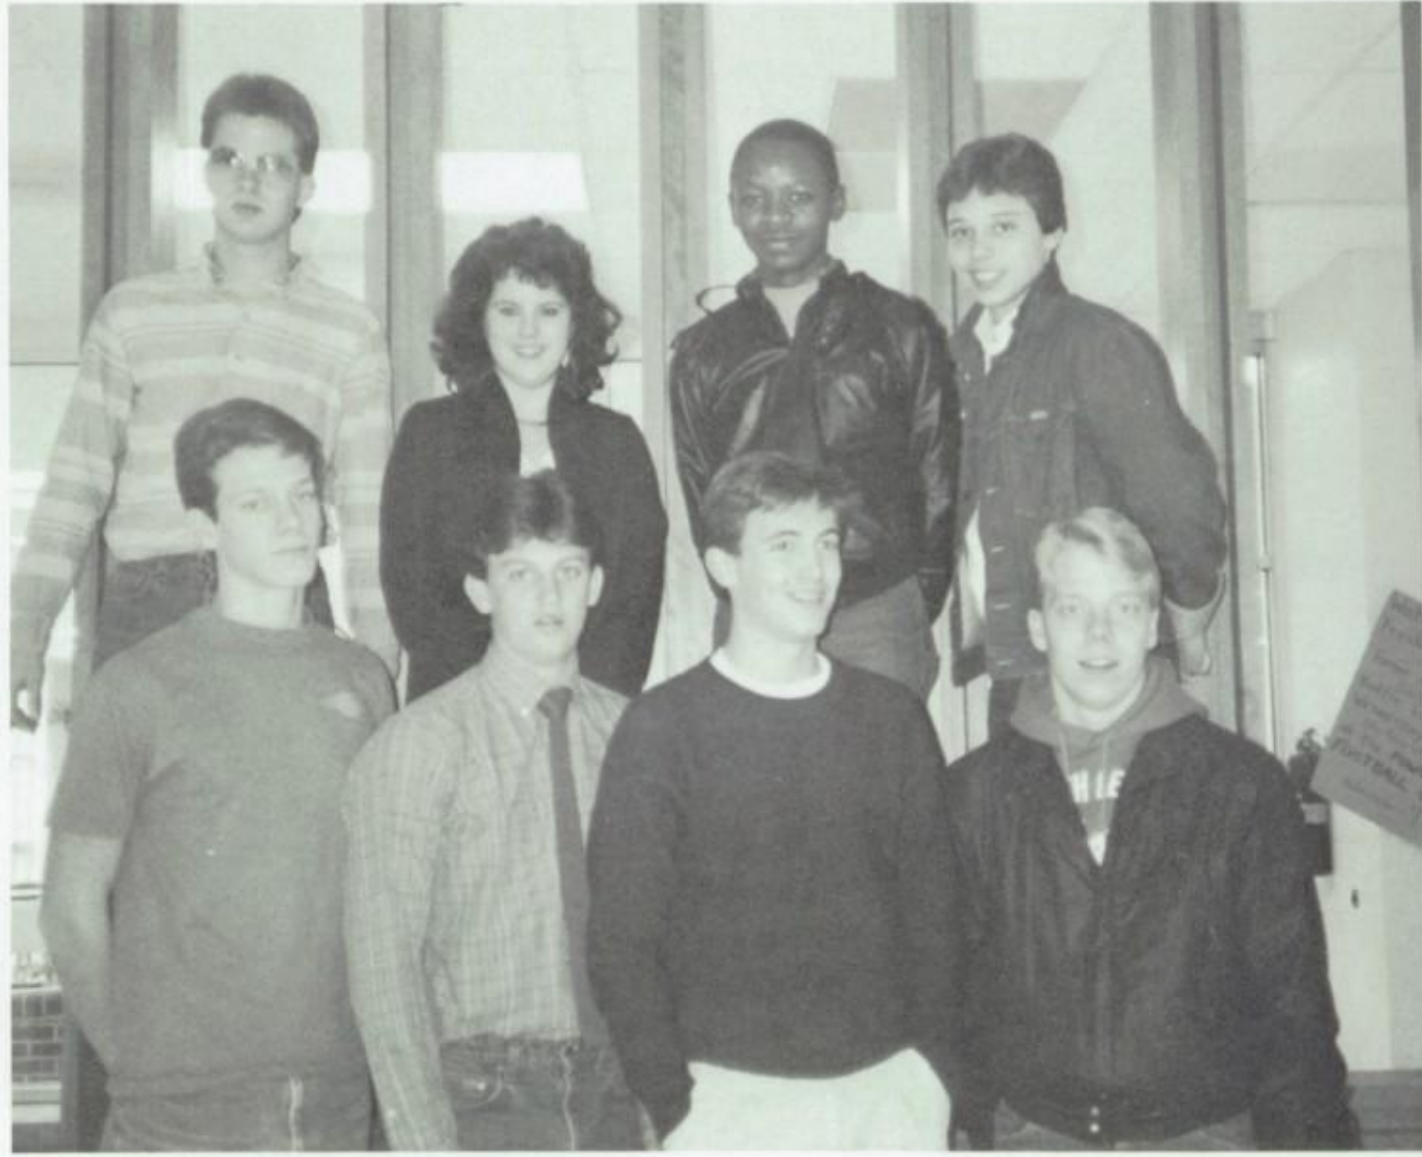

E.C.U. MATH

CONTESTANTS

The 1985-86 ECU Math Contestants are Missy Wilkins, Devin Westbrook, Rhonda Quinn, Erika Kneib, Michael Carlyle, Andy Lovette, Tommy Hughes, Missy Hill, Necole Washington, Dave Hinson, Kate Cauley, Kelley Carter, Charles Herring, and Deedrah Respass.

GOVERNOR'S SCHOOL

The Governor's School of North Carolina is an annual summer program for academically gifted students. These students are exposed to a variety of subjects, which include philosophy, psychology, classical music, modern dance, drama, exposing the student participants to the ideas of others from all over North Carolina, and art. Governor's School creates an ideal learning situation that every student should be allowed to experience. High school counselors, teachers, and principals recommend qualified students as Governor's School nominees. From this group of students the final selection is made.

ROTARY CLUB HONOREES

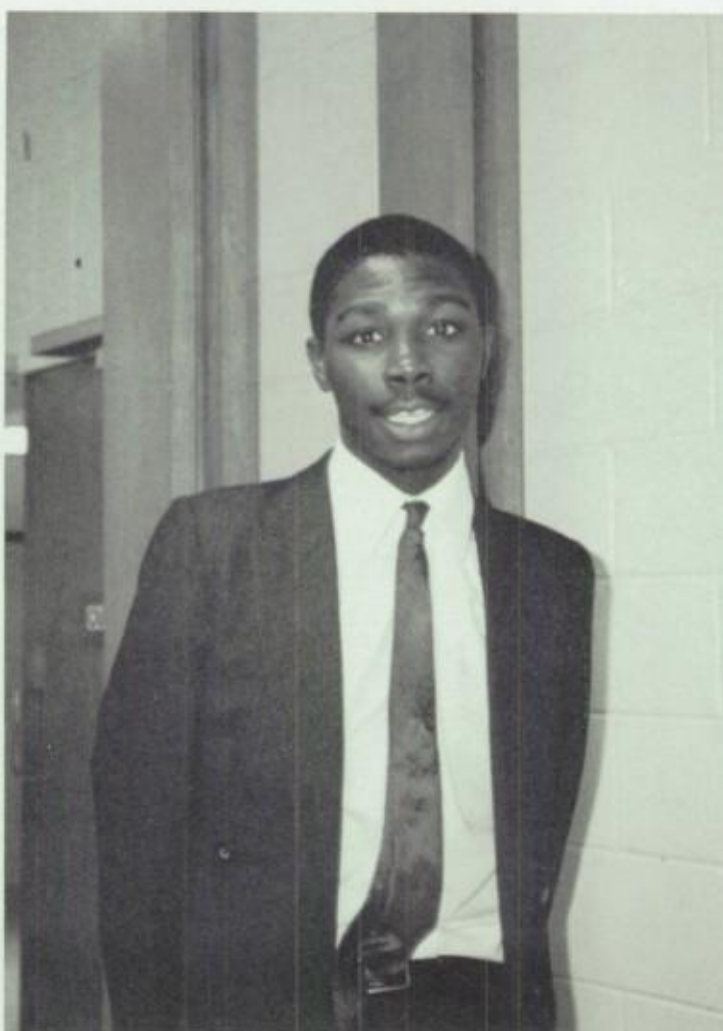

Reggie Parks

Paul Parker

Chuck Hall

Daryl McNeal

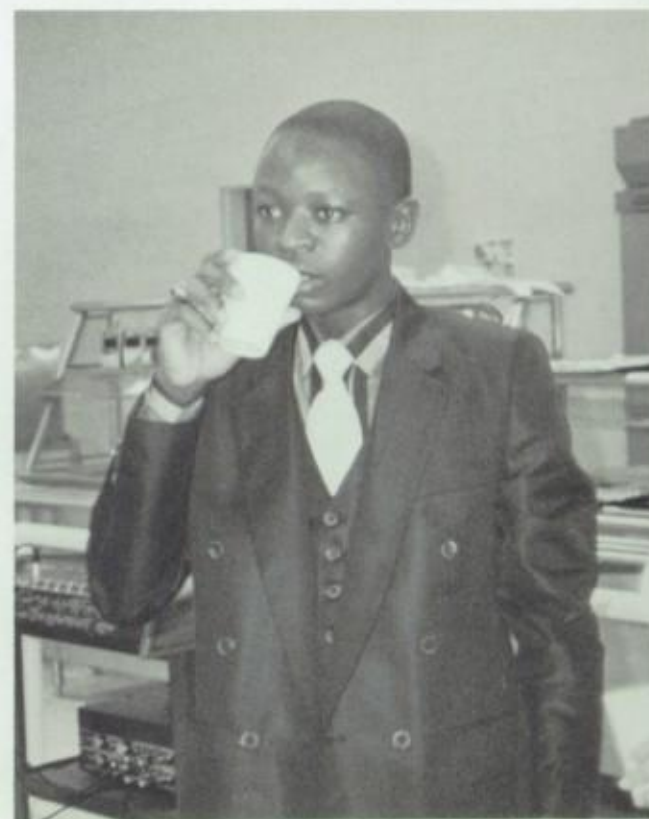

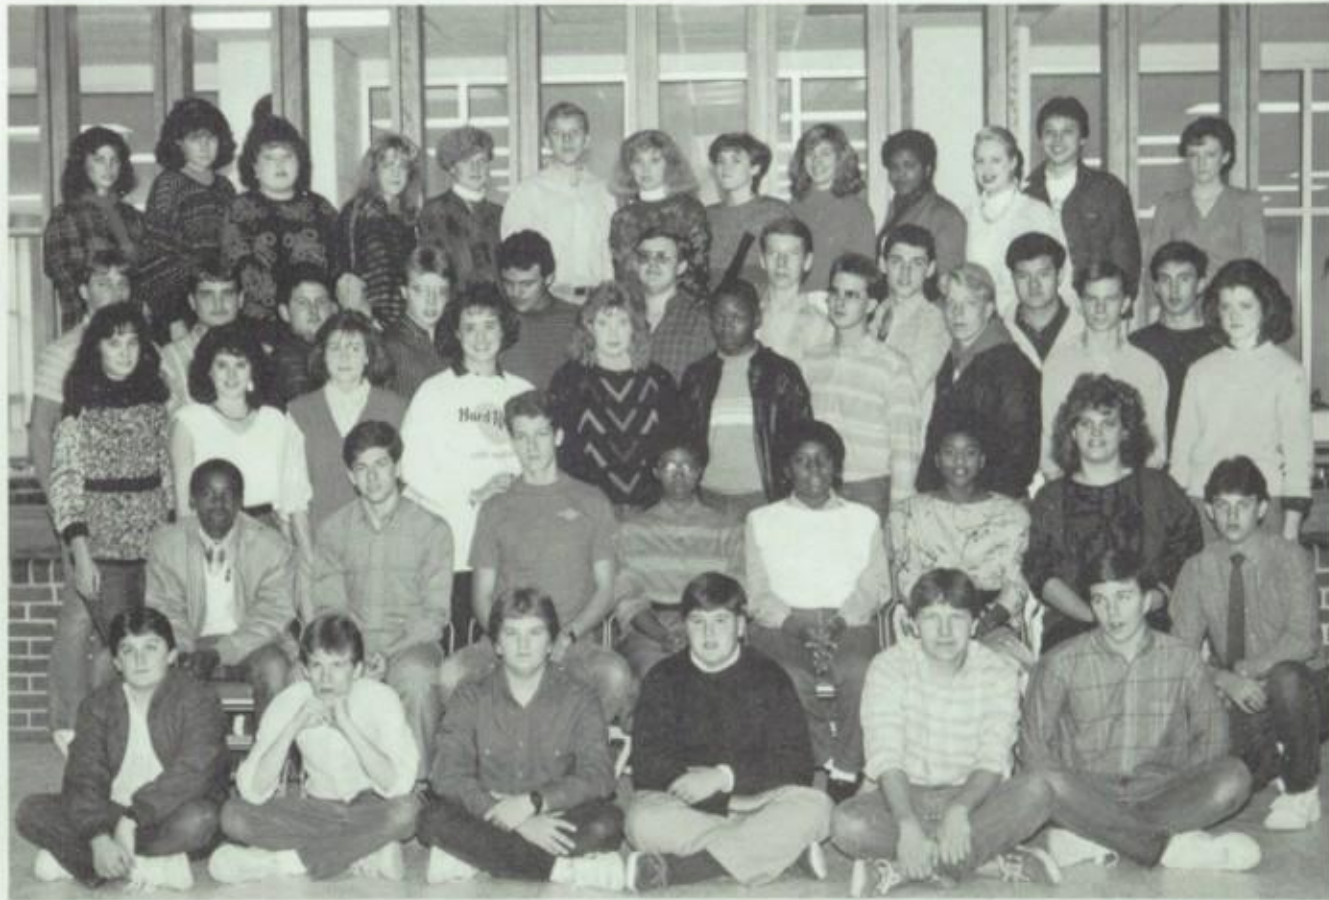

Each year a number of outstanding young men are selected as Student Guests of the Kinston Noon Rotary Club to represent their school. This year Daryl McNeal, Chuck Hall, Reggie Parks, and Paul Parker have been chosen to represent our school.

Each Student Guest is invited to attend all the meetings of a specific month. At the end of each month the student is given a small token by Rotary and is asked to make a few comments to the group. All Student Guests and principals are invited to return to the Rotary Club meeting on the last Thursday in May.

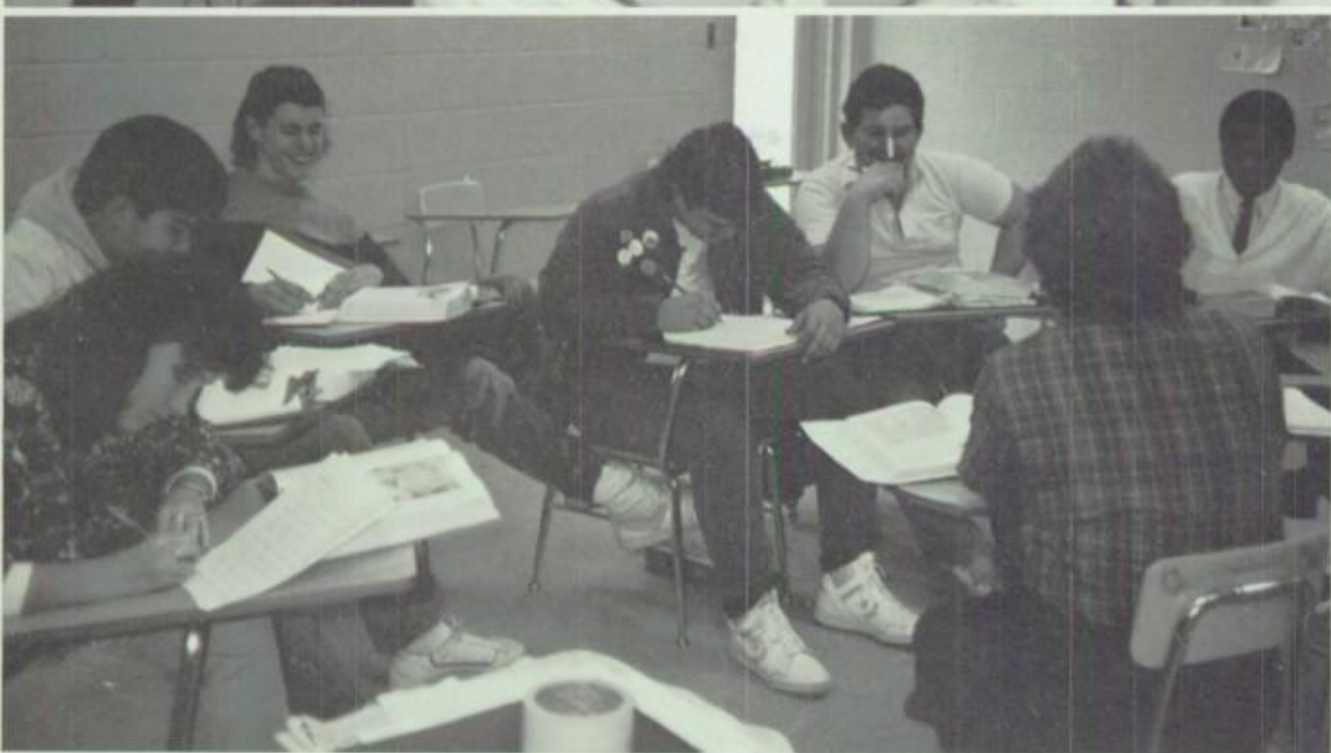

The Student Guest Program provides an opportunity for distinguished young men chosen by their school to meet the business and professional leaders of the community. Programs of interest are presented at each meeting and an important fellowship is shared among members and guests.

ACADEMICALLY GIFTED

In order for a student to qualify for the Academically Gifted program, he must meet requirements that are mandated by N.C. State Law. Scores on standardized achievement and intelligence tests and academic grades are the basis of identification of gifted students. At North Lenoir these students are presently served in the academic areas of English and science. The classes for gifted students aim to teach students not only science and English but also high level thinking skills, reasoning skills, and research skills. Students are encouraged to question, to analyze, and to formulate their own beliefs. The main objectives of the AG program at North Lenoir are to foster individuality, to encourage creativity, to cultivate thinking and coping skills, and to present in-depth information on the particular content area of study.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT

Advanced Placement is a program of college-level courses and exams for secondary school students. Currently North Lenoir offers AP Language and Composition, AP American History, and AP Calculus. Due to the rigorous nature of the AP courses, all classes are relatively small and include a tremendous amount of independent study and research. Motivation and self-discipline are key factors in determining whether or not a student will be successful in an AP class and whether or not he will receive a score on the subject examination that is high enough to qualify him for college credit. Every AP examination receives a comprehensive score based on a five-point scale: 5 — extremely well qualified, 4 — well qualified, 3 — qualified, 2 — possibly qualified, and 1 — no recommendation. Over 90% of the colleges that most AP candidates attend give college credit and/or advanced placement to students whose AP scores are considered acceptable. Although each college decides what AP scores it will accept, most of them give credit for college work for scores of 3 or better.

ACADEMIC BANQUET

Studying Pays Off

The class members of 1987 who attended the Academic Banquet were Cindy Alphin, Dereck Haskins, Charles Herring, Amy L. Hill, Amy Hinson, Gretchen Kneib, Michelle Taylor, Donna Howard, Necole Washington, and Scott Zilke.

Attending from the class of 1989 were Tracy Brown, Kate Cauley, Bobbi Cole, Dana Cousins, Hardy Creech, April Everette, Karen Hardy, William Haskins, Tommy Hughes, Paige Killette, Erika Kneib, Romacina Mitchell, Dewey Mooring, Sara Parker, Rhonda Quinn, Dawn Rouse, Laura Sanders, and Alicia Scott.

Science Fair Winners

North Lenoir's Science Fair was a big success. We had students who won at ECU's Science Fair and at the Kenansville Regional Science Fair. Top left: Billy Small displays his computer project. Billy won first place in Lenoir County's Science Fair and an Honorable Mention at the District Fair. Top right: Tommy Hughes displays his geometry project that won second place at the Kenansville Fair. Middle left: Hardy Creech gives us a look at his geometry project that won first place at the Kenansville Fair. Above: Amy Odom came in Second Place with a research paper entitled "How Does Color Affect Strength," Chris Crute won first place with his advanced math project at the Kenansville Fair. Left: Todd Koehler won a $50 savings bond from Eastern Carolina Dietary Association, a $50 savings bond and first place from East Carolina Department of Home Economics, and Honorable Mention in Senior Biology at ECU.

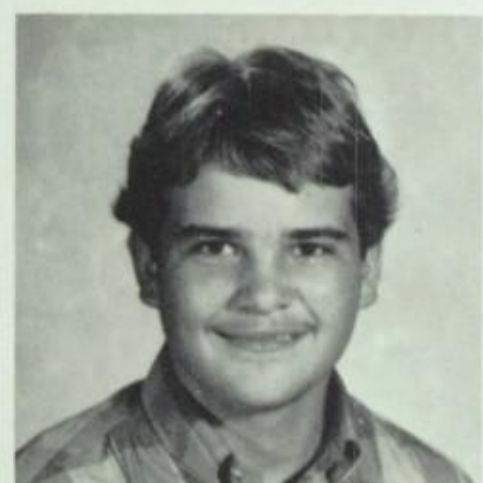

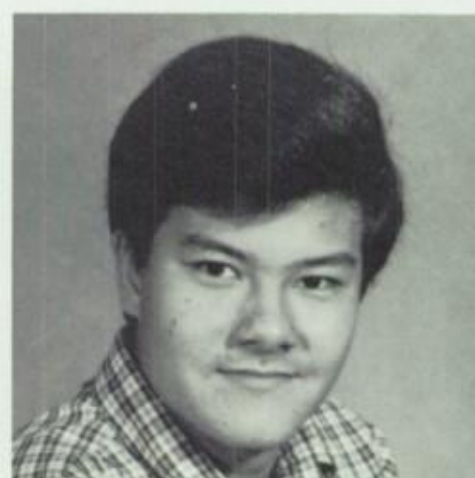

FOREIGN LANGUAGE WINNERS

The Foreign Language Fair for Spanish and French was held April 12, 1986, at Kinston High School. At least six different schools were represented. The students competed in Spelling, Poetry, and Scrabble. Kent Alford won second place in French Scrabble III, Terrell Worthem won second place in Spanish Spelling III, and Leland Cox won first place in Spanish Scrabble II. North Lenoir's Spanish department placed second overall.

QUIZ BOWL

This year North Lenoir's Quiz Bowl team won first place in Lenoir County and first place in the Region. As a result, the team will compete in the state finals. Being on the Quiz Bowl team is an honor because only a few students make it. The applicants are tested on fifty questions on a variety of topics. They each have fifteen minutes to take the test. The tests are graded, and the students with the highest grades are picked for the team. Above are the Quiz Bowl team members. They are pictured individually left to right: Jeff Kennedy, Loftin Herring, Andy Lovette, Chris Hardison, and left, Michael Carlyle, who was the alternate.

NORTH LENOIR TEACHER OF THE YEAR

North Lenoir High School teachers selected librarian Rose Paul Blackwell the 1987 Teacher of the Year.

Ms. Blackwell attended Guilford College and East Carolina University and has a bachelor's degree in health and physical education and a master's degree in physical education and library science.

She has had thirteen years of experience in education with four of the years in libraries. She has coached high school field hockey, basketball, track and field, tennis and college basketball.

She is a member of the N.C. Association of Educators, a member and past secretary of Lenoir County School Librarians and a member of the N.C. Librarians Association.

SILENCE

In the body-covered battle field
A tired, dirt covered soldier
Held the trembling hand
Of his dying friend
Words swollen in the throat
Could not escape as their eyes
Laid a silent goodbye

Kenneth King

KALEIDOSCOPE

Star shaped
Multi-colored flowers
Blooming wildly
Disco lights
Speeding to cover the ceiling
with dancing
Fireworks sprinkling
the night sky
with color
Shattered pieces of a stained glass window
reflecting the summer sun

THE SILENT NURSERY

The rocking horse stands still in the corner
as beams of light
play across the dust-covered saddle
A teddy bear sits silently
it's arms outstretched waiting patiently for a friendly hug.
Pictures drawn with crayon
now yellowed with age
lie unfinished on the table.
As the room grows dark memories of a child's laughter
echo within the hollow walls.
And the rocking horse stands still in the corner.

Janis Brown

SILENCE

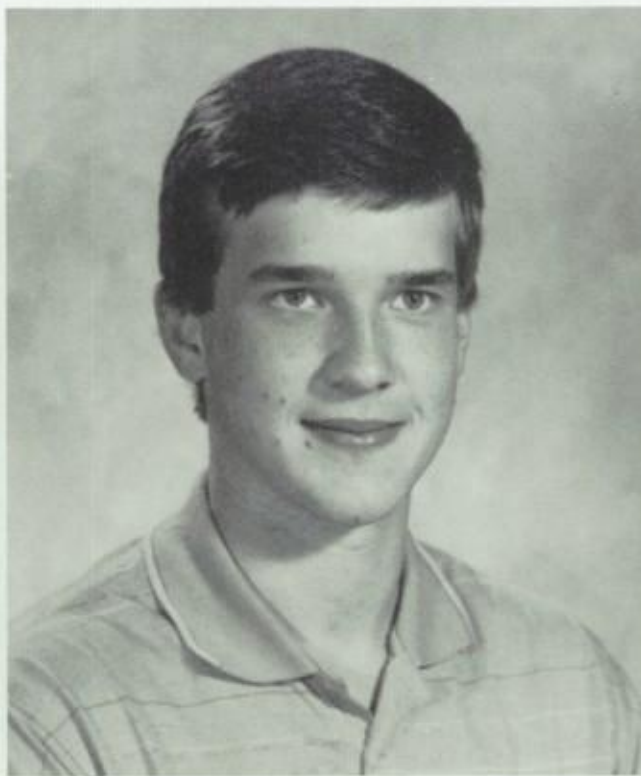

Silence is walking down
the deserted beach and watching the water
playing catch with
the sun's rays
Silence is the seagull soaring
high and free
Silence is moonbeams stretching long fingers
Over the ocean.

Joseph Kinsey

Michelle Minshe, a sophomore at North Lenoir High School, is HOSA Historian for Region II. Doug Craig was named a 1986 National 4-H Cumulative Project Book Winner in Health. This honor entitled him to an all expense paid trip to Chicago and a $1,000 educational scholarship. Doug was one of eight selected from over 238,000 entries. He was also one of four people selected to represent North Carolina in the National 4-H Photo Exhibit, in Chicago. Billy Small won Most Outstanding 4-H'er in Lenoir County, and Joseph Kinsey placed first in the IIA Junior Men's Division of the Eastern Surfer's Association Contest at Emerald Isle. Billy Small was a state 4-H winner with his computer demonstration and also with citizenship and cumulative record. He will represent North Carolina next fall in Chicago.

Felicia Ashford

Terrell Worthem Dereck Haskins

LaJuan Holmes, Nichelle Staten, and Felicia Ashford received scholarships from UNC at Wilmington. These scholarships will pay for tuition and fees each year that the girls attend UNC-Wilmington. Also, Terrell Worthem received a $750 Minority Presence Grant to East Carolina University.

Special congratulations go to Dereck Haskins, one of only three statewide winners in the Dickens Disciples Essay Writing contest, which includes a $200 award and an invitation to the Pickwick Picnic in Raleigh, N.C., in May.

VYING FOR

The contestants for the 1988 Junior Miss Pageant are Karen Sutton, April McLawhorn, Lesley Foss, Christel Parrish, Michelle Reynolds, Ann Duvall, and Christy Maguire. Being a contestant for Junior Miss is a great experience. Try-outs consist of going to an interview and being questioned by a panel of judges. The judges base their decisions on personality, poise, academics, and extracurricular activities. Once the finalists are picked, the fun begins. Meetings are held, plans are made for an upcoming trip to visit the state pageant, and appearances are planned for the LaGrange and Kinston Christmas Parades. Junior Miss is truly a rewarding experience. Amy Hinson, below, was the second runner-up in the 1987 Junior Miss Pageant. Kelley Hart, right, was third runner-up.

LADY HAWKS SEARCH FOR FAME

THE MARCHING HAWKS

In addition to participating in a Band Competition at Burlington Cumins High School in Burlington, N.C., on November 8, 1986, the North Lenoir Marching Hawks performed in an outstanding manner in several area parades. They won first place in the Kinston Christmas Parade and third place in both the Pink Hill Christmas Parade and the LaGrange Christmas Parade.

VARSITY PLAYERS — WINNERS

The football team at North Lenoir has had a great year! The Coastal AAA All Conference Football team has selected Desmond Whitfield as line backer, Ben Wiggins as offensive guard, Mickey Whaley as offensive tackle, and Kenneth Gray as running back. Honorable mentions include Paul Parker, Dennis Jones, Eddie Floyd, Corey Bouie, and Tony Abram.

Each year the Kinston Daily Free Press chooses first and second defensive and offensive teams. For 1986, Ben Wiggins and Paul Parker have been chosen for the first team offense, and Tom Galloway and Jeremy Copeland have been chosen for the second team offense. From North Lenoir Corey Bouie, Mickey Whaley, Desmond Whitfield, and Eddie Floyd have been selected to the first defense team. On the second defense team are Dennis Jones and Tony Abrom. Coach Doug Hill has been honored as co-coach of the year, and defensive player of the year is Desmond Whitfield. They are pictured to the left.

WINNERS

It takes more than a pretty smile and a cute uniform to make a cheerleader. In order to become better associated with their squad members, the girls attended summer camp. While they were there, the cheerleaders won several awards. The J.V. cheerleaders were nominated for Award of Excellence in National's Summer Camp and won 1st place in Lenoir County Fair competition. Varsity Cheerleaders were the summer clinic champions and the spirit winners. They also placed second in the Lenoir County Fair competition.

WITH SPIRIT

Jodi West, North Lenoir's Homecoming Queen for 1986, has never been one to sit around and let others do all the work. The blue-eyed senior has been involved in many extracurricular activities during her four years at North Lenoir. Among her list of many credits are being a member of the FBLA, VICA, DECA, and Monogram clubs and even serving as class vice-president her freshman year of high school.

Jodi's main interest, however, is cheerleading, which she has enthusiastically participated in since attending junior high. Her enthusiasm shows through at every game and has even earned her the position of captain of the North Lenoir Hawks Varsity Cheerleading Squad.

Even though her day-to-day schedule may be hectic at times, Jodi finds time to unwind by listening to music, dancing, playing softball, or even relaxing on the beach whenever the weather permits. Realizing that a college education is important for a secure future, Jodi plans to attend Western Carolina University after graduation from North Lenoir.

Necole Washington

Congratulations to North Lenoir's Chris Crute, Necole Washington, Chuck Hall, Paula Spitler, and Deedrah Respass for being nominated for the John Motley Morehead Scholarship, one of the highest and most prestigious honors a senior can be chosen to receive. In competition with area schools, these students represented North Lenoir well.

And Learners

Junior Achievement Members

Junior Achievement is an organization that allows students to experience the inner workings of a business. Each year a hundred students are chosen from area schools, and these students divide into groups of twenty-five to form their own companies, under the guidance of advisers from the business community. J.A. members sell stock in their companies and pay employees' salaries and manufacturing expenses. They also mass produce their products and market them for a profit.

N.L. Spelling Bee Contestants

N.L. Spelling Bee Contestants for both the JayCee Fair Contest in the fall and the Rotary Spelling Bee in the spring were Mike Gagliano, Jimmy Privette, Chris Crute, and Rhonda Quinn. In the JayCee Spelling Bee, Rhonda won first place for sophomores, Jimmy won first place for juniors, and Chris won first place for seniors. In the Rotary Spelling Bee, Chris was runner-up for the junior-senior category.

Voice of Democracy Winners

The Annual Voice of Democracy Broadcast Scriptwriting Program has as its purpose to encourage high school students to think and express themselves about our democratic way of life. North Lenoir Voice of Democracy Winners are Lynn Hall, first place, Jeff Kennedy, second place, and Erica Kneib, third place. Lynn Hall, a sophomore, also placed third in the county competition.

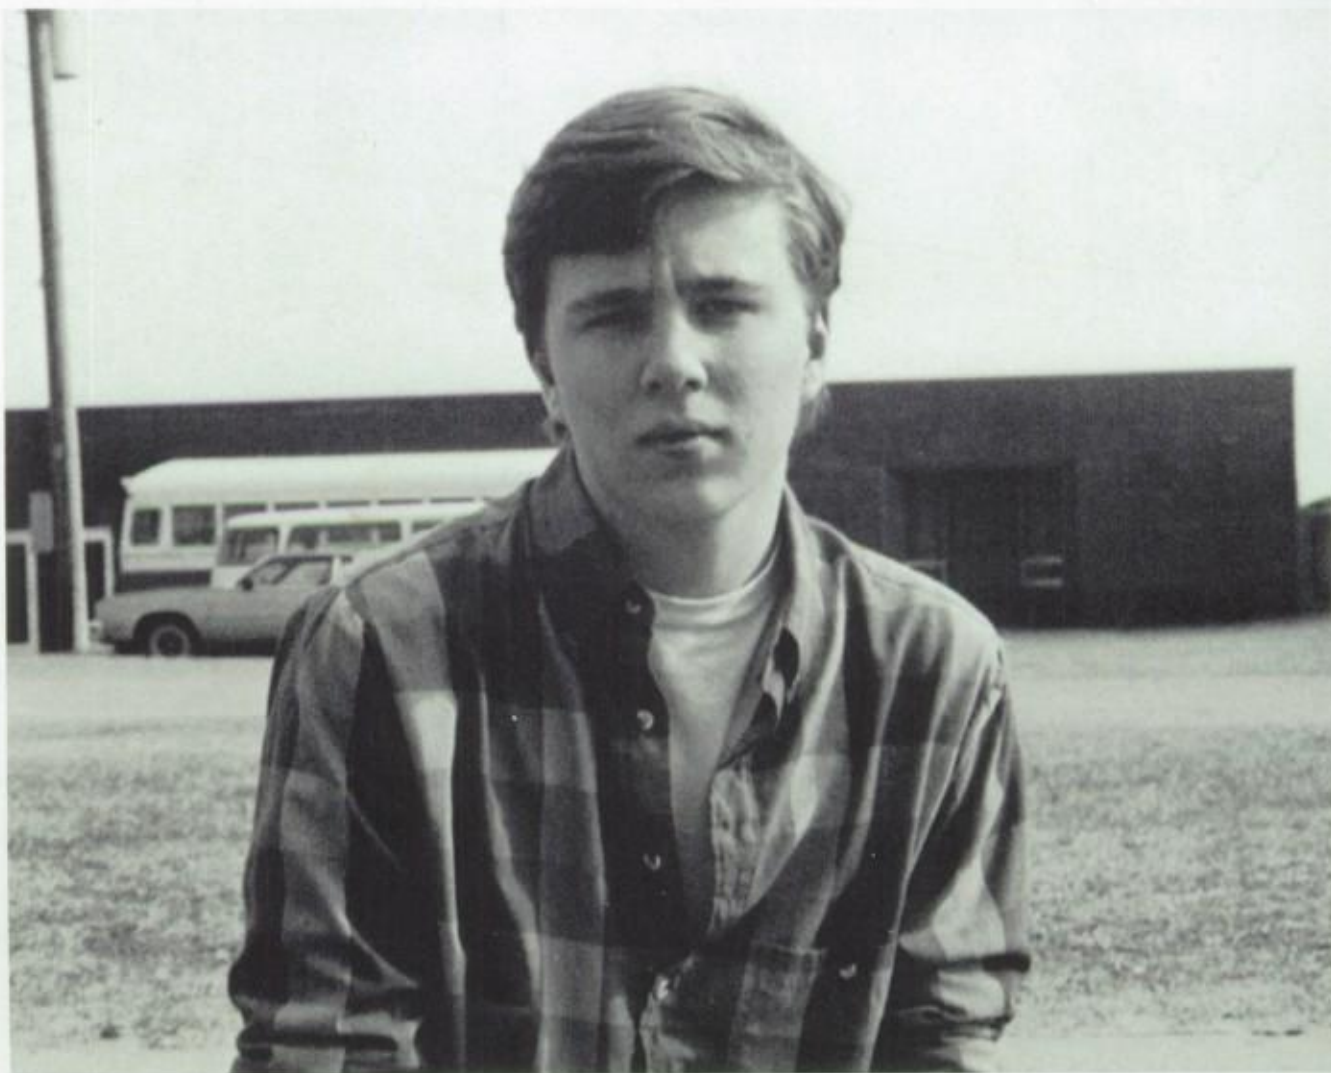

STUDENTS IN

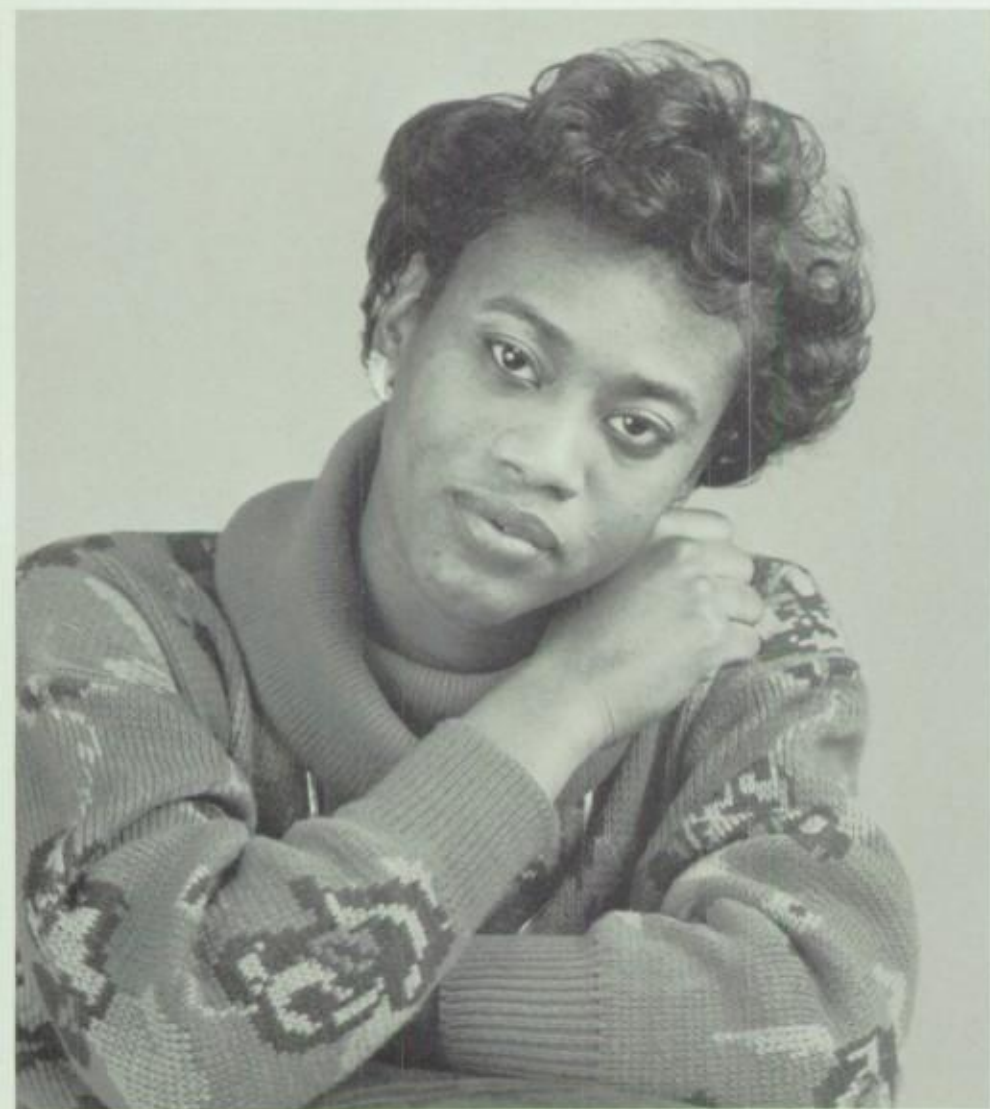

Charles Herring was nominated by Congressman Walter B. Jones for the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Chris Crute is a semi-finalist for the Yeager Scholarship, a national four year full-scholarship competition at Marshall University in West Virginia. The scholarship is based on grades, merit, SAT scores, and extracurricular activities. Only the top 10% of students in North Carolina are eligible.

THE SPOTLIGHT

EXCHANGE CLUB STUDENTS OF THE MONTH

The Kinston Exchange Club honors an outstanding senior each month. The student is invited to a banquet and then receives a plaque. The student is also asked to write a paper and give a speech on a designated topic. North Lenoir students given this honor in 1986-87 were Amy Hinson and Necole Washington.

In addition, Necole also won a $25,000 scholarship from Howard University in Washington, D.C.

COMMITTEE FOR EDUCATION

The Committee for Education decided in 1979 that it was time for more recognition to be called to black students who do extremely well. The black students who ranked above 98 percent in reading or mathematics among all students in the country are honored.

Nominations from North Lenoir for the 1986-87 school year are Juwarne Chapman and Travella Dove.

A SYMBOL OF PRIDE

The North Lenoir FFA is an organization that develops skills related to the agricultural industry. Individuals are rewarded and recognized for their achievements in FFA. Paul Parker is the Lenoir-Jones FFA Federation president, and David Barwick won the Lenoir-Jones FFA Federation Public Speaking Contest. The North Lenoir Poultry Team won the state contest and represented NC at the National Convention in Kansas City, Missouri. Kris Williams attended the State Leadership School at White Lake. Other FFA members are farm livestock judges. In addition, North Lenoir's FFA Parliamentary Procedure Team was the Lenoir-Jones Federation winners, and our Forestry Team won the second place award at the district level.

A NEW VIEW

Yes, that's me. Like you once were, I am only in my infant stage right now. But I will soon be fully grown, and the greatest responsibility will be upon my floors. Yes, I remember the memorial service for the old building. He served his purpose well and lived a very full, satisfying life. But it will soon be my turn. I can already feel the warmth of the torch being passed. And I will live up to his final request for me to do my very best job.

Before he left, he told me of his pride for his graduates. He told me of his love for each and every student. He told me of the scholars, the players, the winners, the losers, the good, and the bad. But he never complained. To know that the vast majority did the best that they could was all he ever needed for complete satisfaction.

But the future is now. I will house the eager faces of the future generations; and I have high hopes for them. I've seen the young, and they have great promise. I am sure that even those I may never house because of their early graduation dates will make positive contributions. Success abounds at this school, success that will soon radiate upon the world in glorious sunlight. Yes, I can feel the warmth of the torch being passed. And to think I will soon be responsible for this opportunity.

BUILDING UPON

OF EDUCATION

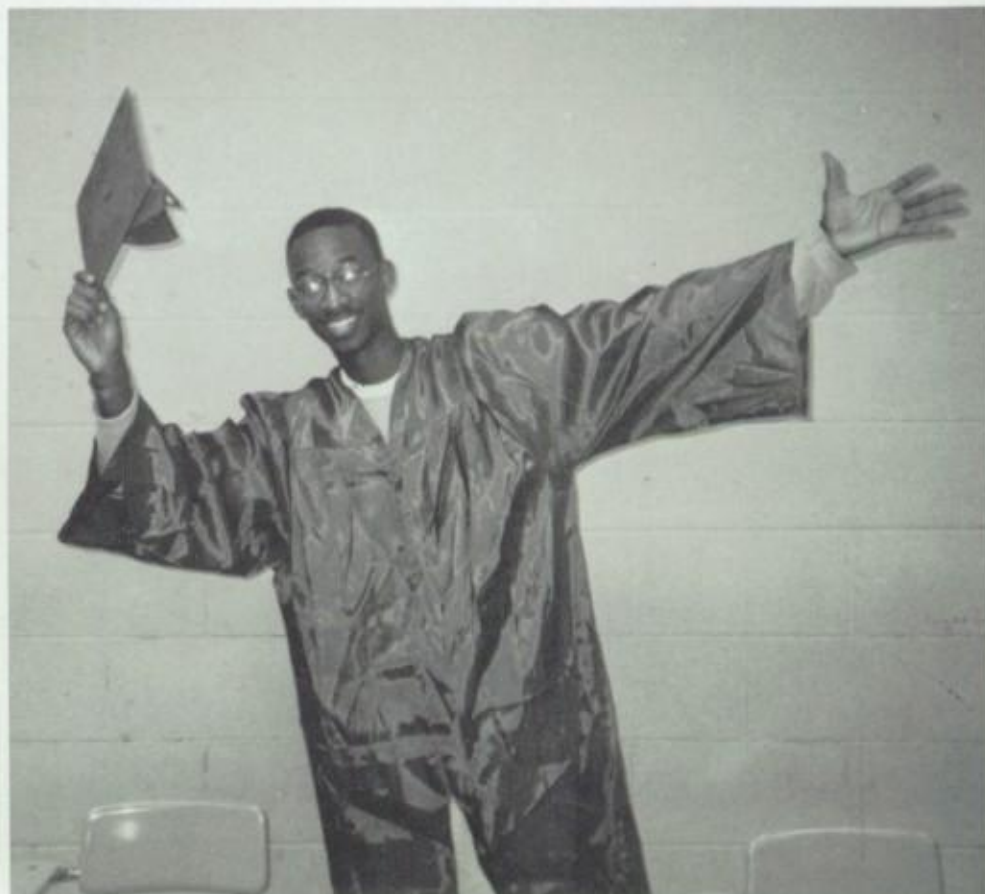

THE FUTURE

A BONFIRE OF SPIRIT

Students, each a flickering candle lighting a small part of our school. Some burn a little brighter than others as individuals express their special talents, but together they create the bonfire of spirit that we call North Lenoir High School. This raging fire of talent, spirit, and soul will spread continuously as seniors graduate and allow their flames to illuminate others in college, at work, and at home. Yet, North Lenoir will never be dark. Eager freshmen fuel the fire, and with the addition of the new building extending the school's lifetime indefinitely, they will keep it going as long as there is still an alumnus left. The flames will never die.

— Christian Crute

Many inconveniences and problems arose at the beginning of this school year. Most were due to the latest construction of North Lenoir. The bells were off, the intercom didn't work, and student life became hectic. Classes were let out at different times due to the lack of the bell. Some students were let out five minutes early. Others were let out five minutes late. Messages were never received. Yet, in all this chaos, North Lenoir somehow managed to continue in an almost normal fashion.

Juan, I can honestly say that you've helped make this school year
a great one. I wish you

EMPLOYMENT

Rt. Co, Box 384
Kinston, N.C. 285

When students are not in school or busy working, the mall is a popular gathering place. Every Friday and Saturday night the area is full of teenagers looking for something to do. Many students enjoy going to movies or eating at Burger King for entertainment. Although some students are out every weekend, there are a few who prefer to stay home and relax to prepare for the coming week.

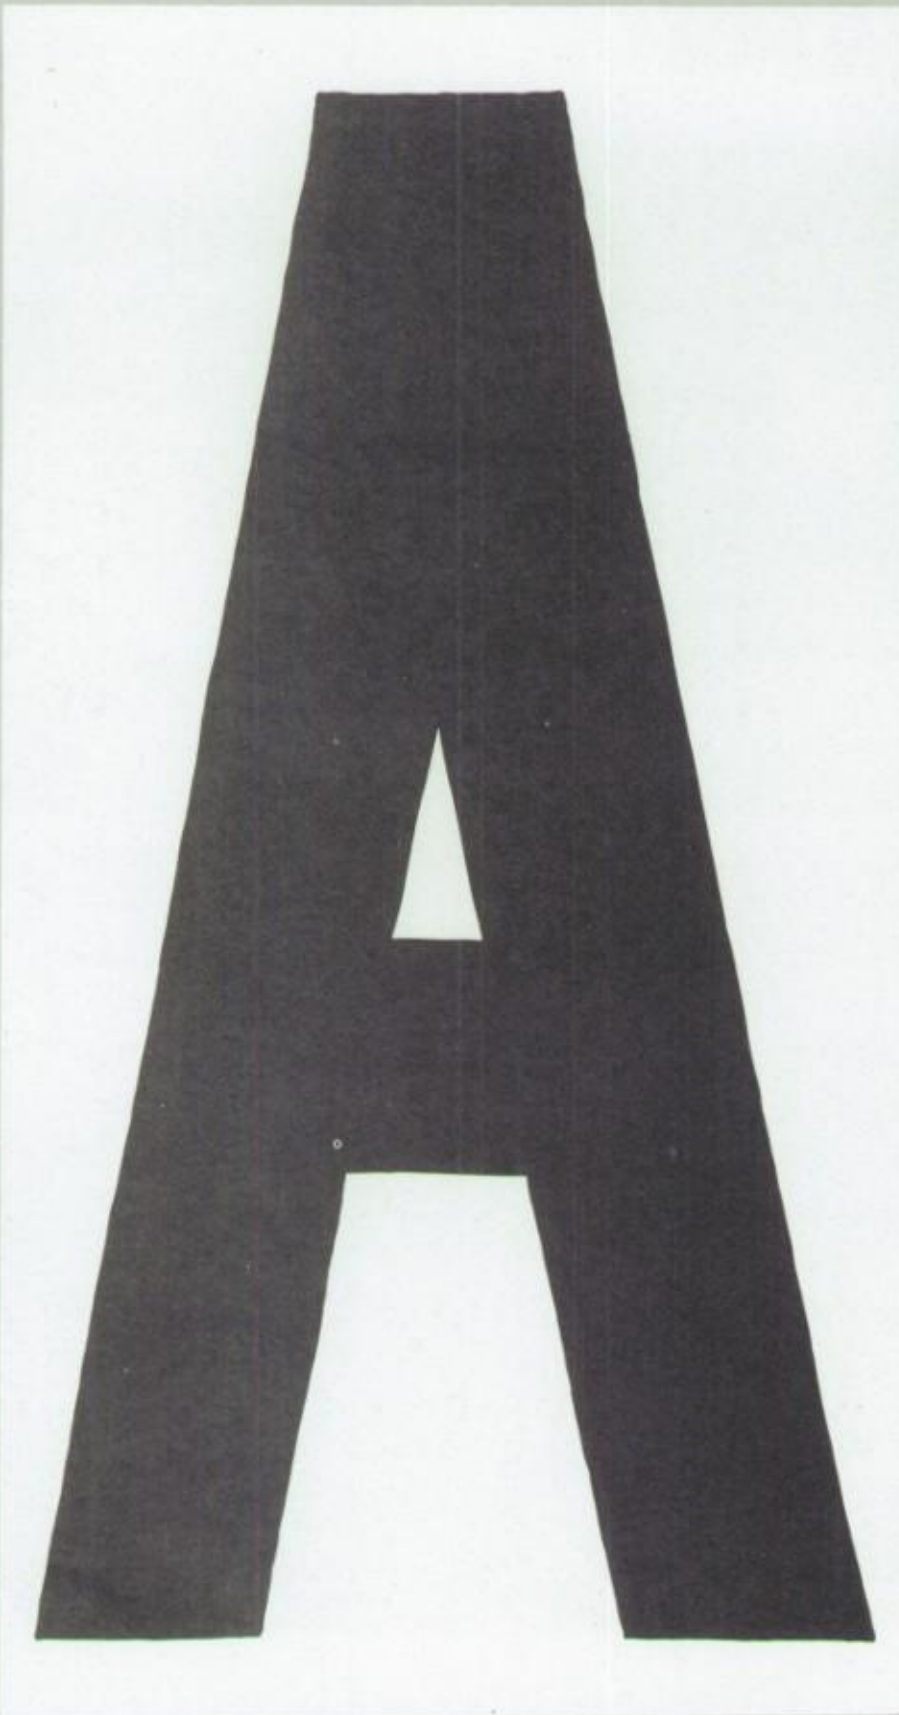

THE LUNCH

CLUB

Students utilize their lunch period for various things. Just as construction workers take breaks, students also need a break from the often hectic school day. Eating is quite important, but it is not the only activity that students enjoy. While some students do eat, others like to grab a quick nap, catch up on the latest gossip, cram for that last minute test, finish their homework, or use the telephone in the student center. Sitting outside on the bricks is a favorite pastime enjoyed by many brave people who can withstand the cold, gusty winds of winter or the hot sun beating down in the summer, while others congregate at the lunch table until time to go to class. One thing is for sure; all students agree that lunch never seems long enough.

THE AD GANG

Ad sellers, ad sellers
Are combing the town,
Trying to round up funds
For the annual, money down.
Rough people they meet
As they go door to door,
Yet always they cry,
"More! We need more!"
"It's all for a good cause."
They cry and plead.
"It's money for our annual
We so desperately need."
Now they are done,
And El Condor is finished.
To the ad sellers and buyers,
We say "Thank you!,
Our gratitude is not diminished."

Chris Crute

Each year the students of North Lenoir are supplied, at low cost, an annual of superb quality. It is easy to take this for granted after so many successful years, but some unsung heroes make this yearbook possible. These are the long, suffering, hardworking members of the El Condor staff. We students who have seen the annual staff work know the extreme pressure and importance of their jobs. But even this is not the complete story.

These people who collect advertisements before school starts each fall are truly deserving of recognition. They are the ones who earn the money to pay enough of the annual's expenses to keep the price we pay reasonable. The hot, summer July and August days that the majority of North Lenoir's students spend in air-conditioned comfort, the annual staff spends "pounding the pavement" looking for sponsors to pay for the book. Their experiences are sometimes discouraging, tedious, embarrassing, sometimes educational, interesting, rewarding. Sometimes an ad seller walks all day from business to business, hearing, "No, thank you," "Not interested," "We bought an ad in the football program," "Our advertising budget is exhausted," "My child attends Bethel, Parrott, KHS, South Lenoir, and I only buy ads from that school." Finally at 3:00 p.m. a sale! No wonder unwary bystanders quickly move over when a while-looking teenager dashes out the door to the street, yelling, "I sold an ad! I sold an ad!" And suddenly that staff member has the energy to continue, knowing that if he can sell one ad, he can sell more ads, and he does.

Some of these students' ad-selling experiences this past summer included the following: walking inadvertently into a room full of board members of a large company during an important business meeting when all the student wanted to do was sell the local manager an ad, looking up through the window of the manager's office at Smith Packing Company while extolling the values of an El Condor ad and realizing that staring back were the eyes of a slaughtered pig (No wonder she screamed!), fielding suggestions of social contacts based on ad sales, and returning to the same business four times at the business person's convenience only to be told finally that no ad is wanted.

But North Lenoir El Condor staff members, like North Lenoir athletes, do not give up. And finally, they have the satisfaction of knowing that once again their ad sales have achieved their goals. El Condor has another financially successful year.

AP Language and Composition Class

J.B.

There was a student I knew,
Who had to sell an ad or two,
She went door to door,
Always asking for more.
Now see how, from her efforts,
our annual grew.

CONGRATULATIONS and BEST WISHES to the SENIOR CLASS of '87
from the 1986-87 staff
of El Condor

Juan I have watched you grow and become a good artist and a caring person. You are understanding to good people. Don't let sympathy lead you to this other life. You are admirable. I miss you.

The El Condor staff expresses sincere appreciation to Mrs. Cile Beaman for the many dedicated years she has spent as one of the advisers. Her creativity and quick thinking have been a blessing when we needed to make things a little more interesting or when we needed a change. Even though Mrs. Beaman no longer plans to be an adviser after this year, she may find us knocking on her door in the future if we need some advice.

Mrs. Beaman, it's been fun ... and don't forget to Kill The Rabbit.

1987 El Condor Staff

EDITORS' PAGE

I have wondered many times during the past year why I was chosen as the editor-in-chief of the 1987 El Condor, but I can only think of one reason. Ever since my first year on the annual staff, which was my sophomore year, I have purposely tried to drive the advisers, Mrs. Cile Beaman and Mrs. Mildred Suits, crazy. Several of these attempts involved begging for an orange cover for the annual, trying to "run the school," shooting rubber bands at other staff members, and hiding under tables to get a little peace and quiet. Because of my innocent attempts to make life a little more interesting, the advisers decided that the only way they could get me back for all the torment I've caused them was to make me the editor. Wasn't that rather ingenious and sneaky of them? Although I must admit that I was driven to the point where steam could be seen coming from the top of my head, I still got the last laugh. Their plan to pay me back was unsuccessful because, even though I've had some trying times on the staff, I wouldn't trade the other experiences it brought me for the world.

Among these experiences are all of the wonderful speeches I have heard in the past three years. Several of these, such as the one when Mrs. Suits decided to give a karate demonstration on a desk (and almost broke her hand) and when Mrs. Beaman threatened to call our mothers and tell them to start renting our rooms out because she was going to kill us, will always remain in my memory. Don't Mrs. Beaman and Mrs. Suits sound like nice ladies? Well, they are!

I also don't think I'll ever forget the "idiot," Beth Sharber. If it had not been for her and Deedrah Respass, the advisers might have been successful in their plot against me. I guess I owe them both a box of green M&M's; I might even manage to throw in a few orange ones.

The rest of the staff members probably all know that I think they are the biggest bunch of "irresponsible dummies" on this side of the Neuse River, but I still love 'em to death. I'm really proud of them for helping to create and record the memories that are documented in the El Condor. I am also proud of them for not skipping the country around deadline time and for not carrying out the mutiny that I know they planned on the days I was absent.

Unfortunately, my editorial days are limited just as the days I have left at North Lenoir are. Neither I, nor the advisers, are any crazier than we've always been, despite each others' efforts. In fact, if I didn't know better, I'd swear that we've all gained a lot from the experiences we've shared. I'm really going to miss all of these "numskulls" in the future . . . and I'll never forget the pleasure of the journey.

IN APPRECIATION

There are many things that go into making an annual great. As it is on opening night in the theater, we often see only the finished project. We admire those who stand out in their great performances. What we often fail to recognize after the great presentation is over are those people who volunteer their own time and help to make everything a success. These people gave freely of themselves and helped make this year's EL CONDOR a success. If we have left anyone out, please accept our apology and gratitude.
